FEDERAL BUDGET SPEECH IS EXPECTED TO-MORROW

Battle to Harness Pend Oreille Power Takes New Aspect

Reeves McDonald Mines To-day Refused to Buy Power
From West Kootenay Company; Government's Fixed Rate Compromise Rejected at Hearing Before Provincial Water Board; No Development of Vast Ore Bodies on Pend Oreille If Power Rights Withheld, Mining Company Says.

The many-sided struggle of giant industries for control of the water-powers of the Pend Oreille River produced a series of unexpected new angles before the Water Board here to-day with these developments:

(1) The Reeves-McDonald Mining Company announced definitely that it would not attempt to open up its large mineral properties near the Pend Oreille unless it was allowed to develop power of its own there. It will not purchase power from the West Kootenay Power and Light Company for this purpose as contemplated by the government.

(2) The Reeves-McDonald Company is prepared to waive all objections to the West Kootenay Company's power plans so long as it is allowed to develop its own power at a dam site for which it has already applied. If the power company's proposed dam at Seven Mile floods the Reeves-McDonald dam, the mining company will ask no compensation for it believes that no flooding can take place. Alternatively, if the dam threatens to flood the Reeves-McDonald site, then the latter will be willing to compensate the power company for cutting down the size of its dam by supplying it with the power thus lost or by allowing the power company to join with it in a joint power scheme.

(3) The West Kootenay Company, on instructions from its parent, the consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, proposes to develop the entire flow of the Pend Oreille by whatever scheme of development appears most satisfactory to its engineers. It is not ready to decide finally yet whether this should be done by one giant dam near the mouth of the river or by the two dams for which it has made formal application to protect its interests.

N. R. DESBRISAY PRESENTED WITH
FAREWELL GIFTS

Canadian Pacific Association
Honors Popular Official on Eve of Departure

Vancouver, April 30.—Presentation of a handsome club bag was made by the Canadian Pacific Association at its monthly luncheon in the Hotel Vancouver to-day to N. R. Desbrisay, general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway here for the last four years, who is leaving for Winnipeg to become assistant passenger train manager. The presentation was made on behalf of the association by Capt. C.
D. Neufeldt, manager of the B.C.
Coast Steamship Service, Victoria.
At the same time the C.P.R. officers welcomed to their midst R. F. L. Burdette, formerly assistant general passenger agent, Montreal, who succeeds
Mr. Desbrisay in office here.
C. A. Cotterill, general superintendent, was the chief speaker, discussing plans for the Canadian Pacific's memorial to the late Sir William Van Horne, Canada's premier railway builder. Other speakers were Capt. R.
Alkman, general superintendent, Canadian Pacific Steamships; J. J. Forster, steamship general passenger agent and L. J. Reynolds, K.C., chief solicitor, Winnipeg.
President H. J. Macquie read a letter from J. Ivan MacKay, formerly assistant to the general superintendent here and now superintendent at Nelson, in which Mr. MacKay thanked the association for the gift of a set of golf clubs which was made to him recently.
Mr. Desbrisay was the recipient later this afternoon of a set of china, the gift of the general passenger department staff.

MINISTER OF FISHERIES IS TO BE NAMED

Premier King Asks Commons to Provide Salary For New Cabinet Member

Member From Prince Edward Island May Join the Ministry

Canadian Press

Ottawa, April 30.—Premier King has given notice of a motion in the Commons providing a salary for a new Minister of Fisheries.
Another motion standing in the name of the Prime Minister on the order paper declares it is expedient there shall be a new Department of Fisheries.
The salary of the Minister of Fisheries is set at $10,000, which is identical with that of other Cabinet members.

The impression prevailing in political circles is that creation of the new portfolio will give Prince Edward Island representation in the Cabinet.
Since 1926 that province has been without ministerial representation, but it is recalled that at the time of the formation of the last Cabinet, four years ago, Premier King intended a minister from Prince Edward Island would be added. It is stated, however, that the government is considering the question whether to give the province representation through the new Department of Fisheries or through an other department by a shuffling of portfolios.

Bedford Plane Back at Croydon

London, April 30.—The Duchess of Bedford, sixty-four-year-old aviation enthusiast, to-day completed a round trip to Capetown and landed at Croydon airport this evening.

The Duchess, accompanied by two pilots, this morning left Sofia, Bulgaria, where they had been forced to make a landing yesterday because of a broken oil line.
She left England for the South African city April 10 and hoped to make the round trip in nineteen days, but was forced to take twenty days as a result of the breaking of the oil line.

BRANSON AND MATSON ENTER SIGHTSEEING

Take Over Empress Taxi and Sightseeing Assets at Midnight

Control of the Empress Taxi and Sightseeing Company Limited will be taken over at midnight to-night by
C. L. H. Branson and J. S. H. Matson, who have acquired from H. B. Olson his entire holding of stock in the company, which operates a fleet of modern taxi-cabs and the Gray Line of sightseeing coaches. The new owners will operate under the existing name for the present.

The offices of the Gray Line on Yates Street, opposite the Dominion Hotel, have been leased for five years from Mr. Olson and operation of the sightseeing fleet will continue from that location. The cars will be serviced at new garage quarters to be opened in the old church building on the northeast corner of Gordon and Courtney Street.

Five large cars will be added to the fleet within a few weeks. Each will have seating for thirty passengers and be adaptable to the general transportation business.

APRIL HAS LESS SUN AND RAIN

Month Below Average in Both Respects, Weather Man
Says

April weather in Victoria was dry, dull and warm, according to tabulated figures compiled this morning by
P. Napier Denison, Dominion Meteorologist. The mean temperature was 50 degrees, or two degrees above the average, with the highest recorded on Friday, April 25, when the mercury rose to 64 degrees. The lowest reading was 38 degrees, registered on April 10.
The sunshine for twenty-nine days was 176 hours and 24 minutes, which was 22 hours below the average for April.
Exactly one-inch of rain fell in April,
this being 22 of an inch below normal.
For the month, for the four months of 1930 the total precipitation was 9.53 inches, or 1.29 inches below the average for the period.

"Flying Wing" to Attempt Flight Across Pacific

LINDBERGH IN ACCIDENT IS FALSE RUMOR

Boston, April 30.—The Tropical Radiotelegraph Company to-day received a radio message from its operator at Panama City at 2:30 p.m., saying Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh had just landed there safely. There had been widespread rumors he had met with an accident.
The Panama City operator reported that after a brief stop there, Lindbergh intended to take off for Cristobal, Canal zone.

CONTINUES FLIGHT

Miami, Fla., April 30.—Colonel Charles
A. Lindbergh was flying from Panama City to Cristobal this afternoon, the Pan-American Airways office here reported.

Built in secrecy, it is planned the big Emco "flying wing," pictured above, will take off from Tokyo,
Japan, soon for Tacoma, Wash.
In an attempt to make the first transpacific flight to this continent, according to an announcement in Los Angeles, where it was constructed, Charles F. Reichert, centre, who flew Commander Donald MacMillan in the Arctic in 1925, will be the pilot and is to be accompanied by a navigator.
The odd-looking ship is sixty feet wide and thirty-five feet long, has a speed of 145 miles an hour, carries 815 gallons of gasoline and can remain in the air seventy hours without refueling, its designers claim.

SOLDIERS' BILL BEFORE COMMONS

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 30.—The soldiers' allowance bill, which has been under consideration by the pensions committee of the Commons for some time, was adopted by the pensions committee to-day and will be presented to the House this afternoon for second reading.

AIR PILOTS ARE INVITED FOR MAY 24 HOLIDAY

"Fly to Victoria" Invitation of Victoria Day Celebration Committee

Many Interested in Floats and Decorated Car Section of Parade

"Fly to Victoria" is the suggestion sent in an invitation by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to airport managers in the Pacific Northwest, in connection with the Victoria Day festivities on May 24.
The suggestion, advanced by Ernest Eve, was welcomed by the general committee in charge of May 24 plans, and was acted on without delay.

Invitations have gone out to Vancouver, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland and other centres in the Northwest, addressed in each case to the airport managers, from which visiting machines and pilots might be expected.
If every pilot was free to accept the invitation extended, Victoria would see some twenty-five planes dropping down out of the sky lanes.
Airport managers of the Northwest are acquainted with the facilities Victoria has to offer for water-landing craft, and also with the emergency airfield at Lansdowne Road, so that no misunderstanding should arise in that connection.

JAPAN SEEKS GREATER TRADE WITH CANADA

New Commissioner Arrives at Vancouver to Take Up His Duties

Vancouver, April 30.—Japan has appointed its first trade commissioner to western Canada in the person of Masao Suma, who has arrived in Vancouver to open an office here, which he will seek to stimulate Japanese trade with western Canada and the northwestern part of the United States.
"There are busy ports in the United States part of my territory," Mr. Suma said, "but the fact the Japanese Government has selected Vancouver as the site of the office indicates the importance my country attaches to the growing trade with Canada."

Japan now has diplomatic consular and trade representation in Canada. The trade commissioner would work in co-operation with the consular service,
Mr. Suma said.
The new trade commissioner has just returned from London, where he was a confidential secretary to the political advisers of the Japanese delegation attending the Naval Limitation Conference.

Session in London

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 30.—Suspension of the rules so the budget may be brought down to-morrow if the government so decides was moved in the House of Commons to-day by Premier King.
The Prime Minister said he thought the House and country expected the budget to-morrow, but that the government was anxious to put through the natural resources legislation before the budget was introduced.
He did not know definitely if the budget would come down to-morrow, but it was feasible to suspend the rule under which the Speaker would leave the chair without the question being put. He therefore moved accordingly.

The motion carried.
While the statement of the Prime Minister on the point was not definite it is generally accepted the budget will be brought down to-morrow.

ASSOCIATION TO BE REPRESENTED AT FUNERAL

gret at the sudden death of Hon.

He was Dominion president of the organization. A telegram of sympathy was dispatched to Mrs. Bostock. At the funeral the association will be represented by C. G. Pennock of Van-

LOSAR CAPTAIN WILL NEVER TRY NARROWS AGAIN

Speaking of Collision With Vancouver Bridge Last Week

Vancouver, April 30.—That a dangerous "set" from the north, which was able on the surface, presumably from Seymour Creek, and felt even during high black water periods, caused his ship, the freighter "Loos," to collide with the Second Narrows Bridge at 2:30 a.m., Thursday, April 24, is the belief of Capt. P. G. Beck.
Capt. Beck expressed this conviction when questioned by Capt. D. P. Mac-Pherson, Dominion Wharf Commissioner, at the inquiry opened at the Court House here this morning. Capt.
MacPherson is assisted by Capt. Samuel Vim, and Capt. Robert Archibald, nautical assessors.

The "Loos" master expressed faith in the ability of Capt. S. D. Dore, pilot, who was guiding his ship out of the harbor, at the time of the accident.
His evidence was to the effect that everything possible was done to avert disaster and that he and the pilot left the bridge only after they had done all humanly possible to check the ship.

Asked a hypothetical question about what he would do if he made the passage, (Concluded on Page 14)

Prairie Mail Plane Is Forced Down In Field

LUCKY TOR IS EPSOM WINNER

Canadian Press

Epsom, Eng., April 30.—Lucky Tor, a favorite at 13 to 2, won the City and Suburban Handicap over the mile and one-quarter course here to-day. Lucky Tor is owned by W. M. G. Singer. Gordon Richards was up.
Lucky Tor won by two lengths from J. D. Cohn's "Vatout third, three-quarters of a length back. The field of eleven included some of the best handicap horses on the British turf.
Stakes were £2,000 and the odds against Athford and Vatout were 6 to 1 and 10 to 1 respectively.
Lucky Tor, the winner, is by Lemberg from Leighton. Lucky Tor had been the popular favorite at 4 to 1 until shortly before the race, when Athford became the favorite.

Winnipeg, April 28.—Heavy mist and drizzle over the prairies last night forced the westbound mail plane from Winnipeg to land in a ploughed field, occasioning damage to the plane and slight injury to the pilot and a passenger. Pilot
A. H. Farrington brought his machine down in the soft mud of a farm near Rosser, twelve miles from Winnipeg, at 10 p.m.
"It was not a plane crash," contended W. L. Brintnell, operating manager of the Western Canada Airways, as he departed to view the stranded machine to-day. "Farrington started off on reported good weather west, found he had come down, and if it had been grass or stable he would have been safe. The plane turned back up, but the damage has not been estimated."

Farrington and his passenger returned to Winnipeg by automobile, carrying the mail from the halted plane. It was sent on to Regina by train. Neither man required hospital treatment.

Poor Law Guardians Pass Over Duties To County Councils

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times—London, April 30.—April has been important in the social services of the country for it marked the passing of the Poor Law Guardians, their duties evolving upon the County or County Borough Councils. The change is a healthy one, for the taint of pauperism is lessened, and the old Poor Law administration will ultimately be broken up. But a very great opportunity is now presented to raise the standard and quality of the Poor Law Medical Service.

The guardians have two main functions—to relieve poverty and to provide for the sick poor. Adequate provision was obligatory, and is similarly obligatory upon the new authorities. The sick poor are treated in hospitals more or less up-to-date in different localities.

For practical administrative purposes these patients can be divided into two classes—the "infirm sick" and the "acute sick." The former class comprises chronic cases and senile infirmities in general, requiring mainly nursing and medical supervision. The second class is practically identical with the cases treated in our voluntary hospitals, except that the proportion of cases of major importance is smaller, and there is more adequate provision for prolonged treatment in convalescence than the pressure on our voluntary hospitals to-day permits. To remove the taint of pauperism from the medical treatment is desirable, but that is essentially a sentimental matter. What is needed is that the standard of medical treatment should be raised to the efficiency which characterizes the voluntary service as a whole, and this is the responsibility, as well as the opportunity, which confronts the new administrative bodies.

Marconi Telephony Ship-to-shore Is At Last Adopted

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times—London, April 30.—The apparatus used for the striking demonstration of wireless telephony from Senator Marconi's yacht at Genoa to Australia was developed at the experimental station at Cheshamford specially for ship-to-shore telephony.

Pave or six years ago the first model was made and demonstrated across the Atlantic, but the inventor, not for the first time in his amazing career, proved to be ahead of public opinion. The shipping companies could see no commercial future for ship-to-shore telephony and an interesting experiment at that time went no further. Last year the British Post Office engineers successfully equipped a transatlantic liner with facilities for radio telephony, and a demand instantly arose for the new form of communication. Marconi then set to work to improve his old apparatus, and evolved the model that has achieved duplex telephonic communication over a distance between 9,000 and 10,000 miles.

Previously the longest ship-to-shore telephony was between England and a ship near New York—about 2,000 miles. Rivalry between the Post Office systems and the Marconi system of telephony is not extended to this latest development. The apparatus used on the inventor's yacht is in no sense a rival to that used by "beam" stations on land, nor does it have any bearing on the relative merits of the systems of land-to-land telephony employed by the Post Office and the Imperial Communications Company.

ARGENTINE CROP YIELD UNDER HALF

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 30.—Estimated wheat yield of the Argentine for the current season is considerably less than one-half of the record yield last year, as reported to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics by the Canadian Trade Commissioner at Buenos Aires. It was the heavy production in the Argentine last year of unusually high grade wheat that was blamed for the failure of Canadian producers to dispose of their crop.

Canadian Railway Earnings Lower

Montreal, April 30.—Canadian Pacific Railway net earnings for March after expenses and taxes were $2,008,572, compared with $3,956,275 in March, 1929.

Montreal, April 30.—Gross earnings of the Canadian National Railway for the week ending April 14, 1930, were $4,223,137, as compared with $4,921,371 for the corresponding period of 1929, a decrease of $698,234.

PROFITLESS PROSPERITY REVEALED AS PROBLEM NOW FACING BUSINESS

Washington, April 30.—More than ground "in helping to smooth the peaks and valleys of the business cycle and in challenging the rule-of-thumb economics which has heretofore too generally prevailed."

Reviewing questions confronting business, Fabyan said: "The profitless prosperity" to which he referred should be combated to the benefit of both capital and labor. He said it was "not the worker alone who is restless to-day before it."

The convention honored the memory of the late William Howard Taft. Requesting the membership to stand for a moment in silence, Mr. Butterworth said:

"It was upon a call from him that the organization, meeting of the United States chamber took place. In his death we have felt the loss not only of a great statesman and jurist, but also the loss of a sympathetic friend of business and business men."

LEVELING UP BUSINESS
In his keynote address, Butterworth said that during the past six months business has definitely broken new concerning conditions which he feels are in some way wrong."

"For some years now," he said, "we have heard business men themselves raising pertinent questions concerning their inability in spite of the exercises of their best intelligence and abilities to secure for themselves and the investors in their enterprises, a reasonable return from their efforts."

"The treasury department's analysis of corporation earnings in recent years shows that a large proportion of the business corporations of the country have been making little or nothing for some years. At the same time these figures disclose that a large proportion of all corporate profits of the country are absorbed by a comparatively few institutions."

TEN DAYS NEEDED FOR REPAIRS TO DIRIGIBLE R-100

London, April 30.—After an inspection of the damaged elevator of the R-100, the great dirigible which is scheduled to make a trip to Canada late in May, the aeronautical correspondent of The London Morning Post believes there is strong possibility of the repairs consuming ten days or a fortnight. "It was thought," he explains, "that three or four days would be sufficient time for the repair work, but it is clear the main spar of the elevator has been buckled as well as the ribs. The time necessary to put things entirely right will depend, of course, upon the methods adopted, but it can hardly be less than ten days or a fortnight. "After it has been brought again from the shed the airship must undergo further trials with modified cover attachment before it can start for Canada."

STORM DELAYS PLANE CARRYING CARGO OF FURS

Motorship Nanuk, North Cape, St. Boris, April 30.—A storm held Joe Crosson to the ice here yesterday after he had loaded his plane with furs in preparation to taking off for Teller, Alaska. Harold Graham, who started for the Nanuk with Crosson Saturday, awaited fair weather at Teller to hop to the Nanuk. Pilot Gallahue, flying a Junkers plane, had not been heard of since he was sighted near Cape Service Saturday by Crosson. Gallahue has been taking passengers from the Russian vessel Stavropol, ice-bound a few miles from all, St. Lawrence Bay. Crosson and Graham have been carrying furs from the Nanuk to Alaska for shipment to the United States.

COMMUNISTS IN PALESTINE BUSY

Jewish Telegraphic Agency Jerusalem, April 30.—May Day proclamations by communist groups demand "wholesale amnesty for those convicted from events growing out of the August revolt, the cancellation of all death sentences, cancellation of the collective punishments; the immediate evacuation of British troops, abolition of the Balfour Declaration and the Palestine mandate, rescinding of the Dead Sea and Rutenberg concessions" and also a call on the Fellahs and Bedouins to "arm themselves and revolt." The General Federation of Jewish Labor has proclaimed a general strike throughout the country for May 1, on which day meetings and concerts will be held. Last week the federation warned members not to participate in unauthorized May Day demonstrations for fear of provocative incidents.

Sixth Volume of British Series Deals With Germany's Hostility

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

London, April 30.—The sixth volume of the British official documents on the origin of the war, which appeared yesterday, and culminates with Lord Haldane's famous visit to Berlin in 1912. The present volume is largely concerned with the attempts on the British side to attain some sort of naval understanding in the years immediately preceding the World War. But if any Anglo-German naval agreement had been reached, it seems from the official documents that the German naval programme would have been practically unaffected, whereas the tensions between Great Britain and France would have been seriously disturbed.

Writing in 1907, Sir Edward Grey, famous British Foreign Secretary, summarized the attempts made to drive a wedge between Britain and France by the Kaiser, who had said France had got a horrid nest out of the Entente.

"Nobody," continues this twenty-three-year-old statement of Sir Edward Grey, "was anxious to see that our relations with Germany should be friendly, but they can only be so, as we have said more than once, on the distinct understanding that our friendship is not at the expense of France."

NO INVASION PLANS

One of the documents now published shows that Capt. Dumas, naval attaché at Berlin, reported that while hostility to Britain was being seriously cultivated in Germany, nevertheless an invasion of Britain was not regarded as a practical possibility. Sir Edward Grey comments on this, that the risk would be too great for Germany to take in cold blood, "so long as we have superior superiority of navy." Nevertheless, it was a danger to be born in mind in all contingencies, he remarked.

An interesting note was attached by King Edward to a dispatch for Sir Fairfax Cartwright, from Munich. "If Germany ceases her extensive ship-building we shall do the same and not otherwise," was His Majesty's remark.

"It is the only chance of a real, peaceful solution of the present feeling existing between England and Germany. Meanwhile Germany, Sir Edward Grey continued, was insisting that a political arrangement must accompany any shipbuilding agreement, whereas from the British side it was asserted every proposed arrangement tied British hands or upset arrangements with France and Russia."

FRANCE AND RUSSIA

"I want a good understanding with Germany, but it must be one which will not imperil those we have with France and Russia," Sir Edward wrote. "I should have thought some formula could be found in which they also could be parties. That would be the best and most reassuring solution, though I see the French could not be a party to anything which looked like confirming the loss of Alsace and Lorraine."

EDUCATION COSTS

"Education is costing more per child in British Columbia today because the people have demanded facilities that were not provided in former times. Perhaps these demands were not consciously made, but they were made—demands for increased educational facilities which mean an increase in educational costs. It is the people of the province who are responsible for the government to educate children in only reading, writing and arithmetic, and nothing else, we could then decrease school taxation," Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, at a Board of Trade luncheon in Vancouver.

THERE IS NO NEED TO APOLOGIZE for the amount of money British Columbia is spending on education. The minister is correct when he says the present educational facilities which the rising generation is enjoying were demanded by our people. They are dictated by the necessity of keeping this province abreast of the times, of insuring that its young people shall be as well equipped for their life's work as the young people elsewhere on this continent.

One of the most urgent needs of a young country like Canada is trained minds and trained hands. Only by giving our young people the right sort of education, by training them to take advantage of the manifold opportunities which abound, shall we be true to the trust which pioneers bequeathed to us.

It may be that something like $10,000,000 a year paid out from the provincial treasury is a large amount for the taxpayers of the province to find; but it is an investment which is returning handsome dividends. Part of our educational system has to do with the health of our young people. It involves, as Mr. Hinchliffe pointed out in his Vancouver address, payment for the services of doctors, nurses, and dentists. It would be a waste of money to try to train a boy or girl who is neither healthy in mind nor body. The producing asset is the healthy person, and the more producers we have whose physical and mental development has been directed along sound lines, the more rapid the expansion of all provincial activities. Only by that expansion, by a policy that will insure a more general distribution of the cost of education and other public services, will our school taxation be reduced.

We do not think we are wrong in telling the provincial minister that there is no real complaint about the annual charge that goes down in the province's accounts for education. Such complaints as the taxpayers may make from time to time will be more likely to relate to methods rather than to the size of the bill. They require, as is only natural, as much value as they can get for their money.

A GREAT LAWYER

LAW, AS INTERPRETED BY EUGENE Lafleur, K.C., Canada's leading barrister, who passed away in Ottawa yesterday, was not a technical, complicated maze designed to confuse and confound those involved in it.

Under his skilful treatment it became a simple and direct thing, to be explained in plain and precise terms. The dominant issue upon which he based his argument in court never was in doubt, because he made it clear and pointed. He had no use for subtle ambiguities, abstruse reasoning, verbal gymnastics or trickery. He had the confidence of the court, whose time he never wasted with irrelevant details or melodrama.

Nature had not been kind to him in the bestowal of her physical favors. He was stunted, almost dwarfed, in physique, and plain of countenance. But in compensation for these defects he had given to him a powerful, penetrating and exceptionally logical mind and the ability to use it to the very best purpose. In his own peculiar field—the courts of appeal, whether at Ottawa or the Privy Council—he had few peers either in Canada or Great Britain.

AN ENTERPRISING MANUFACTURER

ONE AIRPLANE MANUFACTURER is developing a plan to install a drive-yourself automobile service at all the company's airports. His chief object is quicker transportation for travelling salesmen—from airport to the nearest commercial area with the least possible delay.

There may be nothing particularly novel about this scheme. But it is a reminder of the growing importance of commercial aviation and the value attached to speed by the modern businessman. Profits in some cases, perhaps, may not be large enough for a commercial organization to send its salesmen about the country in luxurious aerial liners, but it follows that as this means of travel becomes more popular, if the public can be convinced that it is just as safe to travel by air as it is by other means, the cost of conveying passengers and freight will come down.

One of the developments to which we may look forward is the perfecting of the small airplane so that it will not be a fair-weather craft only. With the present types costing less than some automobiles, it is easy to realize that the day may not be far off when the one-seater machine will be part of the travelling salesman's equipment.

NOW CALLING IT A "STUNT"

ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING features of the discussion which Lord Beaverbrook's plan for Empire Free Trade has provoked is that leading Conservative politicians and newspapers in Canada and Labor and Liberal politicians and newspapers in Great Britain seem to have joined in their best to laugh the proposal out of the realm of practical politics—using a lot of nasty names in the process.

The latest description of it comes from Mr. Snowden. He was asked in the House of Commons recently if the government intended to place the subject of empire economic unity on the agenda of the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference. He replied as follows: "I do not very clearly understand what the honorable gentleman means by 'economic unity.' If he is thinking about the empire protectionist stunt, then I think I will go so far as to say that he can be assured we shall not place that subject on the agenda." The chancellor refused to be drawn, however, when he was asked how he justified the word "stunt."

Lord Beaverbrook seems undaunted by the various attacks which have been made upon his policy. He is convinced that he has a sound idea and proposes to put it over if anyhow possible. But what we should like to hear from him is what he thinks of his Conservative friends in Canada who have treated his proposal so badly. We wonder if he and Mr. Bennett discussed the matter when the leader of the opposition was in Britain a month or so ago, and if so, what Mr. Bennett said about it.

THE TOURIST'S DOLLAR

AFTER A GOOD DEAL OF INVESTIGATION the Automobile Club of Southern California has discovered how it thinks the tourist's dollar is divided. "Here it is estimated," retail stores, dry-goods, gas stations and supplies, fourteen cents; camps and hotels, fifteen cents; restaurants, eleven cents; amusements, five cents; and miscellaneous, eight cents.

Whether this estimate could be applied to Victoria or any other British Columbia city we do not know; but it seems a fairly reasonable one to adopt as a general standard. In most of the provinces of this country, however, that part of the dollar which goes into the till of the retail store no doubt would have to include in some cases a certain amount of patronage for the establishments conducted by provincial liquor boards. It is none the less obvious that business generally, especially in communities with such attractions as Victoria has to offer, benefits very considerably from tourist travel. We notice the increase in the bank clearings in this community during the annual holiday season.

Some people, of course, still are sceptical about the value of the tourist business. The fact that last year the holiday-maker was worth something like $300,000,000 to Canada does not seem to penetrate their minds. If the movement ceased, however, we would very quickly feel the effect of it. Meanwhile, the more Victoria keeps itself and its attractions before the traveling public, the more outside money will circulate here.

OUR FUR TRADE

IT MAY BE NEWS TO MOST PEOPLE that in the early days of the fur trade in this country it was the practice for trappers to keep foxes caught in warm weather alive until the fur was prime; and from this has arisen the modern industry of fur farming. The industry is devoted chiefly to the raising of the silver fox, a color phase of the common red fox established through experiments in breeding. There were in Canada in 1927, 3,067 fox farms with a total of 62,619 foxes, principally silver foxes, also 313 farms engaged in raising fur-bearing animals other than foxes, chief among which are mink, raccoon, skunk and muskrat. These numbers were up thirty per cent. in 1928, and the list for 1929 is around 5,000—an indication of the rapidity with which this industry is advancing.

During the Great War the fur market of the world, long centred in London, changed to the United States. Recently, however, the British market is again taking a large proportion of Canada's exports of raw furs, the latest figures showing that of the undressed furs exported to Britain and the United States, $10,053,474 worth went to the latter country and $12,834,815 worth to the latter. One result of the changed situation is that Montreal has become an international fur market, holding the first fur auction sale to take place in Canada in 1929. Auction sales are now also held at Winnipeg and at Edmonton.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

HOW SWEDEN PROSPERS

The Radio Times (London)

Sweden, which has a population less than that of London, is one of the most prosperous of European countries. Though only a third of the small population lives in towns, Sweden is remarkably good in all matters of art—the drama, architecture, and so on. The town hall of Stockholm is one of the finest modern buildings in the world. There was a time when Sweden made a great stir in the affairs of Europe, when, united in national resistance to the encroachment of her neighbors, she waged war on Germany, Russia and Poland; her standards were raised in Munich, Moscow and Warsaw. Those were the days of Gustavus Adolphus, Charles XII and eccentric Queen Christina, who dressed as a man and died a pauper in Rome. To-day things are otherwise. The country has a great past and a most contented present—which is the best we would desire for any nation.

PASTEURIZATION OF MILK

The Montreal Press

Pasteurization alone will kill the dangerous bacilli of the different diseases which not infrequently assume an epidemic form. Examples of this are numerous. The death statistics of the United States show that eighty-seven epidemics were caused by milk from 1899 to 1928. In eighty-two per cent of these visitations employees engaged in looking after the cattle were victims of the scourge. In addition to this, it has been shown that thirty-three per cent of the cases of tuberculosis among infants can be directly traced to milk coming from tuberculous cows and that ten per cent of all the cases of tuberculosis can be traced to a common origin. Bacilli of tuberculosis have been found in many samples of non-pasteurized milk, a fact which proves that pasteurization is even more necessary than tuberculinization.

Loose Ends

We fail to dig into our past, with great losses to our history—Russia tests our diet theories in an alarming fashion—and the tramps of Europe find no escape.

By H. H. W.

IF YOU are one who attempts to follow, even in a general way, the goings-on of our American neighbors, you must marvel at the continual outpouring of biography down there. Scarcely a week passes without the appearance of some book describing the ultimate life of a great American, and they are being read, too. Many of them are best-sellers, which indicates an amazing public interest in the lives of men who built the Republic. There seems to be no end to the new works on Lincoln and Washington and on the lesser lights in proportion. By this time every intelligent American knows more about such figures than he knows about his next-door neighbor—much more, for anyone who published half these facts about a living person would be cast into jail for criminal libel.

WHILE ONE may doubt the necessity of going into Washington's love affair with a neighbor's wife, as one recent author does, or the need of investigating all the follies of Franklin's misbegotten youth, still, these biographies are of tremendous value in teaching Americans the history of their country, the development of their civilization. And by contrast, they show just how backward we in Canada have been in this same important work.

IN THE United States, as in other countries, they have built up the personalities of history so that every school boy knows them; they have built them up so successfully, indeed, that we on this side of the line know more about the follies of Franklin and Lincoln, to take three examples, than we do, say, of our own Macdonald, Frontenac or Champlain. We have in general circulation, at least, no tale of Macdonald like Lincoln's bloodless duel. We have no legend about Frontenac like the tale of Washington's cherry tree, or any tale about Champlain as interesting as Franklin's experiments with lightning. We have a thousand tales of famous Englishmen, Frenchmen, Germans, Italians, men of almost every race. We have King Alfred and his cakes, Bruce and the spider, King Henry's wives, the doddering, elderly, fumbling old man, but on this human side of history we have been strangely lacking in our own country.

THIS IS NOT for absence of material. There are an older country than the United States, even if we are smaller, and our history is rich with stirring events and colorful characters. It is not for lack of public interest, either. If such books were written and published they would be read, but no one seems to have appreciated fully the possibilities of this great field. There is a fine chance here for Canadian writers, if they have the talent for digging deep into our past. Their service to the country will be of first-rate importance, for they will make our history live in the lives of the men who made it. Until now it has been taught as a dull subject to children, and grown-up people have had to turn to the history of other nations for human material which their own can so richly supply.

SIR HENRY DENTON, head of the Great Royal Dutch oil interests, has been demonstrating by actual figures that the Bolshevik experiment in Russia is certain to collapse. His assertion is based on the fact that Russia is short 70,000,000 tons of food annually, and a nation with its food consumption reduced, he believes, must decay. Whether Sir Henry is right or wrong, here, surely, is a perfect test of those theories of diet which at present hold the entire civilized world in their ruthless grasp. If Sir Henry is right, the dietitians are gloriously wrong. If Sir Henry is wrong the dietitians are right. We are all, over and over, and we increase our efficiency and health if we reduced our diet. The Russian people, therefore, may be expected to achieve a pitch of efficiency which none of the overfed nations can possibly emulate.

I am almost with them. But if the success of their government means the success of the diet theory then am I the whitest of White Russians. No one knows, of course, what is going to come out of the Russian Revolution, but if Diet is coming out to turn to for guidance, no revolution had ever taken place. On the other hand, if the Bolsheviks collapse, what a splendid vindication for us who eat what we like, as much as we can hold, whenever we feel like it. Events in Russia thus have a very real and personal interest to all of us.

IN VIENNA shortly will gather an assembly of profound significance to this age, and one cannot understand why so little attention has been paid to it in the press of the world. This assembly is the League of Vagabonds, which is now planning its second "Tramps' Congress." The congress will be carefully arranged and carried out, according to a programme which would grade a Rotary Convention. This, the leaders of the movement, is expected, necessary at the present time, for "the fate of the vagabond is both spiritually and financially at stake to-day"—an announcement rather enlightening to a world which thought that these gentlemen of the road were as little concerned with things spiritual as things financial. There are other surprising features on the programme, showing just how seriously the League of Vagabonds takes itself. Leading vagabonds, for example, will speak on "What Are the Alms of the Brotherhood of Tramps?"

"Capitalistic Society and the Tramp," "Law and the Tramp," and "The Home of the Homeless." Apparently the philosophy and ethics of the profession are to be laid down so that the world may understand them.

THE SIGNIFICANCE of the congress, however, reaches further than that. The significance of the Congress is that it shows how a system of organizing everything at last has been taken the men who live for disorganization. The poor tramps have had to organize to protect their rights; they have had to found an organization to fight organization. They have found, alas, like us weaker people, that there is no escape for anyone.

HELENE SETS NEW 100-YARD COAST RECORD

But Seattle Swimming Star Fails in Attempt to Lower World Mark

Seattle, April 30.—Making a bad turn on the last lap, Helene Madison of Seattle failed in her attempt to lower her world record of 46 4-5 seconds for the 100-yard distance, in the Pacific Northwest championship swimming pool here yesterday evening. She was clocked in 51 3-5 seconds by five A.A.U. timers, which establishes a new Pacific Coast mark.

The Crystal Swimming Club of Seattle, managed by Ray Daugherty, Miss Madison's coach, won the meet with a total of 38 points. The Multnomah Athletic Club, of Portland, was second with 25. Moore Swimming Club of Seattle, third with 15. Ideal Pool of Tacoma, fourth with 10. Neighborhood Club of Portland, fifth with 6, and Vancouver, Washington, Club, last with 1.

Miss Madison, Seattle's sixteen-year-old swimming ace, who set eight new world records a few weeks ago, competed unattached. She defeated Babe Gilson, of Seattle, unattached, by fifteen feet but failed in her attempt to negotiate the 100 yards in less than one minute. She never before accomplished by women. She slipped as she made the second turn in the 100-foot pool but established a new Pacific Coast mark. The former western record was 47 4-5 seconds held by Olive Hatch, of Los Angeles.

NEW GENERAL MANAGERS OF BANK OF MONTREAL MEN OF WIDE EXPERIENCE

The two new general managers of the Bank of Montreal are William Alexander Bog and Jackson Dodds, succeeding H. B. Mackenzie, who died last week.

In an official statement the directors point out that it had been decided, in view of the extensive duties devolving upon the position heretofore held by the general manager, it was desirable to appoint joint general managers of the bank.

BOG IS PICTON MAN

The new appointees have had wide experience in banking. Mr. Bog was born at Picton, Ontario, July 20, 1863, son of Lieut.-Col. Thomas Bog. After receiving his education at the Picton High School he entered the service of the Bank of Montreal in his native town in March, 1881, and has steadily advanced through many positions. He went to Ottawa from Picton and later was promoted assistant, accountant, of the Toronto branch. In 1908 Mr. Bog joined the bank's New York staff as second agent, remaining there until 1921, when he was again transferred to Montreal as assistant general manager with supervision of the foreign agencies of the bank, as well as of the bank's branches of the Pacific Coast.

DODDS FROM B.N.A. BANK

Mr. Dodds was born in London, England, and after four years' experience in the Comptoir National d'Escompte de Paris at London, came to the Bank of British North America. After several years in Eastern Canada he was transferred to the west and was appointed manager of the Regina branch. In 1909 he moved to Vancouver as assistant manager. Two years later he was promoted to the London, England, office as secretary.

On the outbreak of war in 1914, because of his residence in Vancouver, he was in the Honorable Artillery Company. On four occasions he was mentioned in dispatches and was awarded the Order of the British Empire.

In June, 1919, he returned to the Bank of Montreal in London as assistant manager. He returned to Canada in 1922 and was appointed district superintendent of Manitoba branches with headquarters at Winnipeg. In 1925 he was appointed assistant general manager in charge of the western division and in 1928 was transferred to the assistant general manager at Montreal.

Mr. Dodds is well known in Victoria, because of his residence in Vancouver, as assistant branch manager to William Godfrey.

Toronto's Salary Grab Inquiry Made Wider

Judge Investigating Aldermen's Vote For Higher Pay For Themselves Will Ask About Lake Regatta

Toronto, April 30.—Extension of the scope of Judge Denton's inquiry into the so-called Toronto City Council "salary grab" to include investigations of allegations concerning the Brule Lake Regatta course and the site of the proposed new Police Administration building, and the filing of an affidavit by Irving E. Robertson, editor of The Evening Telegram, as a rate payer, in support of his application for a permanent injunction restraining payment of salary increases to aldermen, are the latest developments in Toronto municipal politics.

Controller Pearce pressed for extension of the scope of the inquiry at a "round-table" meeting yesterday, at which he and Mayor Ross Weir were at variance in respect to statements purported to have been made by the latter last week on the subject of the Brule Lake aquatic course. Controller Pearce declared the mayor had told him "members of council had been given consideration" to put through the Brule Lake course. This Mayor Weir emphatically denied, stating he had said "these were rumors that a terrific lobby was being put on and I wanted to know if you had heard of it."

Judge Denton's inquiry is not expected to start until sometime in June.

Acid Stomach Is Dangerous

Suffers From Indigestion OUT THIS OUT

Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by "too much acid" in the stomach.

The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis or dangerous stomach ulcers. Never dose an acid stomach with artificial digestants that give merely temporary relief. You must get at the cause.

The best plan is to neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little "Bismarck" Magnesia. Then not only will the pain and sourness quickly vanish but your food will digest properly as nature intended. Be sure to use genuine Bismarck Magnesia. There is nothing better to settle an upset acid stomach. You feel fine in five minutes. Reliable druggists everywhere say it must give complete satisfaction or its small cost will be returned. Bismarck Magnesia comes in both powder and convenient tablet form. Handy to carry about, easy to use, not a habit, and for making a disordered stomach do its duty. It works like a charm. (Adv't.)

J. H. Woods Honored At Event In Toronto

Former President of Canadian Press Presented With Portrait at Gathering of Daily Newspaper Leaders of Canada; Sir William Mulock Speaks

Toronto, April 30.—A notable feature of the Canadian daily publishers' annual dinner here yesterday evening was the presentation of his portrait to J. H. Woods, editor and managing director of The Calgary Herald, by his fellow members of the Canadian Press in appreciation of his recently concluded four-year term as president. The portrait is from the brush of Kenneth Forbes, Toronto artist, and is an exceedingly true likeness of the well-known Canadian newspaper man and publicist.

John Scott of The Toronto Mail and Empire, who succeeded Mr. Woods in office a year ago, in making the presentation referred to the important contribution Mr. Woods had made to co-operative news gathering in Canada, being associated with the movement as far back as 1907 as a charter member of the Western Associated Press, then founded in Winnipeg, and active through the intervening years in the establishment and advancement of the present nation-wide organization.

The Canadian Press, said Mr. Scott, was the agency which had knit together the various parts of a wide-flung dominion; which enabled the man who had gone west to read in Vancouver news of his native birth in Cape Breton and helped, generally, to overcome the inevitable disadvantages of distance.

Mr. Scott, turning to Mr. Woods, said he hoped he would long remain an active member of the Canadian Press and spoke of the service which he was now rendering to the country in his work for the Empire Press Union and as president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

CHIEF JUSTICE SPEAKS

The guest of honor of the evening was Sir Hon. Sir William Mulock, Chief Justice of Ontario, who praised the public spirit of the newspapers of Canada and warned them against dangers in their path.

The gathering took an informal tone and many an anecdote and jest of the early days of the "newspaper game" in the Dominion was heard.

Sir William Mulock was introduced by W. B. Preston of The Brantford Expositor and president of the Canadian Newspaper Association.

Sir William, the "grand old man" of the Canadian bench and bar, pointed to the great influence the press had wielded upon the life of the country.

"There has been a great improvement in the tone of the press within my memory," said Sir William.

The newspapers were expected to raise themselves above the level of party politics, which were apt to become acrimonious and should take the greatest care in commenting upon public men, for many within whose power it lay to do great good in public life had been deterred from entering upon a public career by the strong criticism to which individuals in the limelight were frequently subjected.

Sir William recounted, to the evident enjoyment of his listeners, stories of his experiences with journalists.

He declared newspapers to-day were national in their circulation and influence.

TO BE DEFEATED

"Within recent years," he went on, "we have witnessed in the old land two or three men, ambitious for political power or gain, owners of great newspapers, endeavoring to undermine public control over Parliament by forcing their views upon the electorate."

Efforts for sinister purposes to utilize the press to mislead the people, should such efforts be made in Canada, the remedy for defeating them rests with the people themselves.

The Chief Justice said it would be an unfortunate day for Canada should there ever be any owners of great newspapers here who, by reason of the power arising from such ownership should "become our real government," imposing their policies on the country and usurping the sovereignty of the people.

BUILDING A NATION

"The Canadian people are to-day engaged in the task of nation building," said the speaker, "and the press of Canada is taking a leading and noble part in that great work. With the example of Great Britain before us we realize that for any people to become a great lasting nation the foundation of the national edifice must be liberty and justice."

EARLY DAYS RECALLED

There were parts of Mr. Woods' address in reply to the presentation by Mr. Scott which took a great many of the newspapermen present back to their early days and were a fine vein of humor through the struggles of a young journalist.

Mr. Woods told of his "breaking into the game," of the mingled success and failure of his first years and, viewing his own experiences as entertainment as would a spectator, he caused many a laugh from a sympathetic audience.

"This is the greatest day of my professional life," said Mr. Woods.

NEWS FIELD

"The Canadian Press, through the high standards of its organization, had done a great deal to raise the general tone of the press of Canada. It was so impartial in its reports of political meetings and events that both Liberal and Conservative papers had for years taken its service without a complaint. It furnished the facts, without coloring, gave the Canadian people news of the Empire and the country, and left

DIVORCE COURT BILL IS UP FOR THIRD READING

Ontario Measure Sponsored in Commons By Woodsworth Reported From Committee

Ottawa, April 30.—The bill sponsored by J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg North Centre, which is designed to establish divorce courts in the province of Ontario, stands for third reading in the Commons, the measure having been reported from committee of the whole yesterday evening. The sudden projection of the bill them the right of judging and of forming opinions for themselves."

into the business on the House yesterday evening came on an amendment moved by W. Irvine, U.F.A. Westsaskatoon, to a motion by W. F. Garland, Conservative, Carleton, Ont., that a Senate divorce bill sponsored by Mr. Garland be read a second time.

Mr. Irvine moved the bill be not so read, but that the House move into committee of the whole to reconsider Bill No. 20, which was Mr. Woodsworth's bill.

Speaker Lemieux ruled this amendment was not debatable, and that it must be decided by "yeas" and "nays." The House carried the amendment, and Bill 20 was then proceeded with.

When the bill was laid before the House an amendment had been moved by A. N. Smith, Liberal, Stormont, Ont., the effect of which would have been to hold the operation of the bill in abeyance until a proclamation by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council of Ontario. The committee chairman had explained this when T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto North-west, moved that "the bill be now reported."

This was ruled out of order. The vote was then called on Mr. Smith's amendment, which was defeated by 63 to 28.

BILL REPORTED

The bill was then reported from committee.

When the Speaker had uttered the customary formula: "When shall said bill be read a third time?" some members called: "Next sitting of the House." The Speaker so ruled.

Before the private members' hour had elapsed thirty-five divorce bills were given second reading and referred to the committee on private bills. A motion was made to speed up the process by passing the bills on one motion, but Mr. Woodsworth objected. As a matter of principle, he said, he was opposed to making the procedure any more of a farce than necessary. He insisted on each bill being called.

First reading was given to eighty-three more bills.

THE GREATEST SALE OF THE YEAR

WHAT IT IS

This Great Dollar Sale is the only sale of its kind in the country. It is a wonderful merchandising event that enables you to buy two garments for the price of one plus a dollar. It includes each and every spring garment in the store. We confine you to nothing except price. For instance, a coat at $25.00 or $35.00 or whatever the price might be plus one dollar will give you another coat or dress of equal value, or a suit or an ensemble. All you do is pay one dollar more and receive your extra garment. Every garment has its price tag on it. Choose your garment, pay the regular price and take a second one for a dollar.

WHY IT IS

There are several reasons for this sale. One is the backward season with the result that ever-incoming garments have not gone out as fast as they should. Another is that it is the policy of Herman's to carry no garments from one season to another. The order has gone out that no spring merchandise must be carried into the summer. Every Spring Frock, Coat, Suit and Ensemble must be cleared out of stock regardless. Space must be made ready for the new summer garments now on their way.

SON OF FORMER VICTORIA RECTOR WED IN ENGLAND

Major Gerald C. Miller Married to Miss Alice R. Taylor on April 5

A wedding of interest to many Victorians took place on April 5 in England. All Saints' Church, Minsterworth, Tring, Hertfordshire, when Alice Rosemary, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. George Taylor, of the Old Manor, Marsh, formerly of Greyfriars, Chester, and Major Gerald C. Miller, of Ardingley College, son of Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Miller, of Marshworth Vicarage, formerly of St. Barnabas Rectory, Victoria, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by the groom's father, Rev. E. Miller, assisted by Rev. T. E. Wilson, headmaster of Ardingley College, and Rev. D. R. Evans, Vicar of Glyn, North Wales.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in white satin, trimmed with white fur, and wore a cream net wedding veil held in place on her head by a wreath of orange blossoms and falling at the back in a long graceful train. Her shower bouquet was composed of red roses and lilies.

She was attended by three bridesmaids, Miss Muriel V. B. Miller, sister of the groom, Miss Rosalind Taylor, sister of the bride, and Miss Lisette Fowler, all of whom were dressed alike in frocks of red satin, with short trains and, on their heads, wreaths of red leaves. They each wore a crystal necklace and crystal bracelet, the gift of the groom, and carried shower bouquets of roses.

The groom was supported by Mr. K. Matheson of Glasgow, following the ceremony at the church, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the Old Manor, where a large number of guests assembled to offer their hearty good wishes.

Major and Mrs. Miller left later to spend their honeymoon motoring in North Devon and will later make their home at Great Saeuland, an estate mentioned in the Domesday Book and which is connected with the College grounds and contains a sixteenth century house which they will make their home.

Major Miller was born at Cedar, Vancouver Island and received his early education in Victoria and later graduated from Oxford. He saw service with the Imperial Forces during the Great War.

There were two Victorians present at the wedding, Mrs. J. W. Church and Mrs. J. Mail.

FAMOUS HAREM OPEN TO PUBLIC

Sultan's Seraglio at Constantinople Secluded For 400 Years

The Seraglio harem at Constantinople, hidden from the world for four centuries, has been opened to the public. Anyone may now enter its hazy, bronze door, once the most jealously guarded spot in the Ottoman Empire, behind which twenty Sultans, their wives and slaves hid their loves, hates, intrigues and crimes.

The harem is a rambling, three-story labyrinth of long, unlighted corridors, narrow rooms whose walls are covered with blue, mauve, and green faience, ceilings with frescoes, floors with old rugs.

Brocaded divans, marble fountains where dipped Imperial fingers and fingers enlaved, mother-of-pearl tables and heavily curtained royal beds sparsely furnished the labyrinth.

The visitor area is a bed where the janissaries strangled the Dowager Sultana Kermem with the cords of her bed curtain; sees the cage-like room where the insane Sultan Ibrahim was imprisoned, and, finally, climbing the dusky stairs, reaches the roof of the courtyard where roses bloom and fountains splash. Here, high above the city, the harem's thousands of hidden women saw the sky and the far-stretching sea.

Woman Doctor Doing Splendid Work In Japan

Tokyo, April 17.—(By Percy Whitting Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—One of the most striking Canadian personalities in Japan is Dr. Caroline MacDonald, long resident in this country, who is noted for the far-reaching and sympathetic interest she has taken in the life of the laboring masses and the inmates of prisons.

She can talk and write the Japanese language fluently, and is a keen student of the legal codes of the country. Her unostentatious work in the prisons and on behalf of the poorer classes has made for her a vast number of warm friends both among officialdom and those who benefit from her devotion.

In a recent address before the Tokyo Women's Club, of which Mrs. Hugh Keenleyside, wife of the first secretary of the Canadian legation, is vice-president, Dr. MacDonald spoke regarding aspects of the International Labor Congress at Geneva. She had accompanied the Japanese labor delegates to the congress as their adviser and interpreter, refusing to accept remuneration for her services.

In the course of her address she said that the Japanese Federation of Labor was in the process of constructive organization, without slavish imitation of western methods, and that it was opposed, in principle, to strikes as means of settling labor disputes. She said that the Federation had a membership of 300,000.

Branching off to a discussion of the Japanese Red Cross, Dr. MacDonald stated that the organization had the largest membership of any Red Cross organization in the world.

MARSHALL FIELD DIVORCE MEANS BIG SETTLEMENT

Wife Instituting Suit Promised More Than $1,000,000 Per Year and House

New York, April 30.—The Daily News in a copyrighted article says Mrs. Evelyn Marshall Field left here yesterday to obtain a divorce in Reno, Nevada, after receiving assurance of an income of more than $1,000,000 a year—most of the largest divorce settlements ever obtained—from counsel for her husband, Marshall Field III, grandson of the Chicago merchant.

In addition to the huge income settlement, The News says Mrs. Field obtained possession of the Field town house, 225 West 57th street, valued at $2,500,000, and custody of the three Field children, Marshall Jr., fourteen; Barbara, eleven; and Berenice, six.

Virtually the entire settlement was arranged through trust fund assignments from the enormous Field fortune, the newspaper says. No special provision was made for the children since they are to inherit the bulk of the Field estate on the death of their father under terms of their late grandfather's will.

CHAPTER PLANS GARDEN PARTY

Margaret Rocke Robertson I.O.D.E. to Hold Affair on June 4

Tentative arrangements for a garden party to be held at the home of Mrs. Hermann Robertson, Clive Drive, on June 4, in aid of the chapter's funds, were made at the monthly meeting of the Margaret Rocke Robertson Chapter I.O.D.E. on Monday afternoon, May 20.

A most interesting report from the secretary of the Travellers' Aid of the Y.W.C.A. was read. The sum of $10 was voted toward the Provincial Chapter Convention Fund. Two new members were welcomed into the chapter and one elected to membership.

A charming letter of thanks was read from Mrs. Hermann Robertson, first vice-regent, for flowers sent her by the chapter. Mrs. Luney, "Echoes" secretary, in her report from Municipal Chapter meeting, urged that as many members as possible attend the children's service in Parliament Square on Empire Day, May 23, and also the annual church service on Sunday, May 26, at the United Church.

The Dominion church services are arranged on the Sunday preceding the opening of the National annual meeting, this year to be held in Montreal during the last week in May.

Mrs. I. Gordon Smith and Miss Grace Terry expressed their sincere and heartfelt thanks for the honor the chapter had conferred on them in presenting each with a Provincial Chapter life membership at the Provincial annual meeting.

The following conditions govern the competition: 1. this competition is open to all British subjects resident in Canada, whether professional or amateur; 2. the prize will not be awarded twice to the same person; 3. the design submitted shall be an original sketch in colors, size about 10x14 inches; 4. the subject for the design is a Canadian outdoor spring scene; 5. a competitor may submit more than one design, but only one should be sent in separately; 6. the design should be accompanied by a sealed envelope containing both the real and the assumed name of the competitor; 7. arrangements will be made by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire to have the design winning the first prize published and sold as a Christmas card; 8. the prizes will not necessarily be awarded in the estimation of the judges; 9. no entry merits the award; 10. no entry will be suitable unless it is accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope suitable for the return of the sketch.

Germes of decay are glued to teeth

Remove the FILM that breeds bacteria and turns white teeth dull and dingy

TOOTH DECAY is caused by germs. Pyorrhea usually results from germs and tartar. Germs are imprisoned in a dingy, glue-like coating on the teeth called film. There they breed by millions in contact with the teeth and tissues in every crevice.

Film clings so stubbornly ordinary ways are not successful in removing it. Use the special formula called Pepsodent. You instantly notice the difference in the way it feels. Film vanishes. Teeth become gleaming white. Yet Pepsodent acts gently. No punice, harmful grit or crude abrasive—but a soft, creamy paste that is prescribed for the softest teeth and tenderest gums.

SIXTEEN WAYS TO SERVE POTATOES

For a time we snubbed the potato rather rudely, in our zeal to banish excess weight. But now that strenuous dieting is no longer the fashion, potatoes are again firmly entrenched in our menus. Meals aren't meals, without them.

To make up for past neglect, I suggest that you send potatoes to the table in a constantly varying dress. Sometimes you will want the simple, mealy goodness of steamed potatoes, or the fluffy whiteness of mashed or rice potatoes. Other times, nothing will fit in the menu so well as bursting baked potatoes, golden with butter and glowing with paprika.

With greenbeans or a tiny chop you may prefer the delicacy of creamed potatoes; with thick and juicy steaks, the heartiness of lyonnais or O'Brien au gratin potatoes. Serve them scalloped, fried and broiled. For more elaborate dinners, have potatoes soufflé, in the half shell or French fried. Cheese combines delectably with potatoes in various ways—potatoes au gratin, Chantilly and Delmonico all being favourites of mine.

It all depends upon the milk. In all of these recipes which call for milk or white sauce, I have found that the quality of the milk is most important. If you use the best of creamy whole milk, pure and sweet, you can count on a delicious sauce. You can be sure of such results, by always using Carnation Milk. It is simply the best of whole milk from selected herds, with nothing added and nothing taken out except part of the water.

Being evaporated to double richness, Carnation Milk makes the creamiest of sauces, without the extravagant use of butter. Being "homogenized"—which means that the double cream content is broken up into the minutest particles—it gives a wonderfully fine, smooth texture. And this same rich creaminess and velvety-smooth texture are found in every dish in which Carnation Milk is used. Because of its uniformity, dependability, convenience and real economy, you will want it for all cooking.

Try the recipe for Carnation Potatoes au Gratin, given below. Or better still, send for free Carnation Cook Book. Address: Carnation Co., Limited, 134 Abbott Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Carnation Potatoes au Gratin—3 cups cooked potatoes, diced, 2 cups Carnation White Sauce, 1 tsp. chopped parsley, 1 cup grated cheese, 1 cup bread crumbs, stirred in 2 tsp. melted butter. Heat potatoes in Carnation White Sauce, pour into buttered baking dish, sprinkle top with parsley, then with cheese and finally with buttered crumbs. Bake in hot (400°F) oven until crumbs are brown. Serves 4.

Carnation White Sauce—3 tbsp. butter, 3 tbsp. flour, 1 tsp. salt, few grains pepper, 1 cup Carnation Milk, 1 cup water. Melt butter in top part of double boiler; add flour and seasonings and mix thoroughly. Add Carnation Milk diluted with water and stir constantly until smooth and thick. Continue cooking over hot water for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

AND REMEMBER

for the richest, smoothest, creamiest white sauces, you can count on Carnation Milk. It is pure whole milk in the most convenient and dependable form.

HOOVER TO BROADCAST

Two addresses by President Hoover, one Thursday evening, May 1, at the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and another Monday morning, May 6, before members of the American Red Cross in annual convention, will be broadcast over the coast-to-coast network of the Columbia System.

The White House has announced that the speech before the Chamber of Commerce will be on the business situation, and an important pronouncement on this live topic is expected. The executive will be introduced by Richard F. Grant, president of the Lehigh Valley Coal Corporation of New York at 5:30 p.m., Pacific Standard Time.

The Red Cross event will begin at 6:30 a.m. Pacific Standard Time, with music by the U. S. Navy band, an invocation by Monsignor Buckley of St. Matthew's Church in Washington and introduction of the President by Judge John Barton Payne, chairman of Red Cross. The President's talk is scheduled for fifteen minutes.

New Vision For Old

"Did you lose your glasses Tom?"
"No, Laura. I threw them away—and will never have to use them again!"

Truly a "grand and glorious feeling." A sense of pride and satisfaction. For after many years of wearing distorting, discomforting and expensive spectacles, he was able to discard his glasses entirely, and only after a short period of treatment.

The world is full of Tom's—men and women whose features and appearances are marred—who endure unnecessary suffering because of poor eyesight. They think that glasses will cure, or eliminate the conditions responsible for eye troubles! But glasses and spectacles can never do this. The real help must come from other sources. In the case of the eye it is done through the great sympathetic nervous system.

If you already wear glasses find out how you can discard them. If you do not wear glasses but feel that your sight is failing, then find out how this new scientific treatment assures you perfect sight without the use of glasses.

If you are a parent, learn how to save your children from the scourge of nearsightedness—how you can save them from the slavery of eyeglasses and how their eyes can be treated so they will always have perfect normal vision.

Your eyesight is your most important possession. It can never be replaced if it is lost. And since no amount of money could make you sacrifice your eyes, you owe it to yourself, at least to investigate what the YOUTH-HEALTH METHOD can do for you.

UNITED Y.P.S. HELD BANQUET

Cups Presented at Big Gathering Monday Evening

The Sunday School Hall of the First United Church presented a gay and festive scene when 125 young people and guests gathered at the "Victory" banquet, Monday evening.

After the supper, Fred McGregor entertained the proceedings with a jolly sing-song and some clever song hits, and F. J. Mitchell sang by request "Land of Hope and Glory." The accompanying of the evening were Miss J. Smith and Jack Smith.

This banquet marked the thirtieth meeting of a season in which keener evidence, better programmes and larger attendances have been strongly in evidence.

The secretary's report, given by Miss Ina Easton, revealed an average attendance during the year of thirty-four. The character of the evening was literary, social and missionary, every one of which proved entertaining and instructive and a feeling of real Christian fellowship pervaded them all. John Taylor, the chairman of the evening, paid a tribute to the excellent co-operation of the executive.

Robert Wallace of the Christian Fellowship Committee gave an interesting resume of the missionary evenings. Splendid speakers in the persons of Rev. G. Pringle, Dr. M. Anderson, and Mr. Gray were secured. The devotional period played an important part in the weekly meetings. Through the efforts of this committee and the society, four pictures were presented to the Sunday school. Two delegates were sent to Vancouver in March and an executive member will represent the society at the Youth Conference, to be held in Toronto in June.

In presenting the report of the debate series, Miss Carol Menzies paid a splendid tribute to John Gough, B.A. as convener, for his indefatigable efforts in promoting the debates.

CUPS PRESENTED
The presentation of the Strath Cup to the Pas-a-Pas club, and the McGregor Cup to the "Locheal" group of the C.G.I.T. was made by F. McGregor. Robert medals were presented by Miss McFarlane to the Misses Murie and McDougal of the Pas-a-Pas, winner in the senior series. Special medals for excellence in debating were presented by Mrs. W. G. Wilson to the Misses Hoy and Innes of the Axioma. A charming incident took place when Miss Hoy and Miss Innes presented their opponents, Miss Murie and Miss McDougal, with dainty corsage bouquets.

The warm welcome extended by Rev. Bruce Gray to the many guests of the evening was replied to by Mrs. Christie, president of the Ladies' Guild, and Strang of the Session, Miss Phillips of St. Andrew's Y.P.S., and Jack Aylin of Christ Church. A.Y.P.A. Mr. Gray also welcomed the teachers of the Y.P.S. Bible classes and expressed his appreciation of their sympathetic support during the year.

William Erith announced that steady progress is being made in the tennis courts. It is hoped that the opening of the courts will take place on May 10, with fifty Y.P.S. members enrolled. On behalf of the Sunday School, Mr. R. G. Howell thanked the Young People for their generous donation of pictures. He also congratulated them on being the largest Young People's Society in British Columbia. The presentation was made by Miss O. Heritage on behalf of the Young People's Society to Mr. Robinson, church officer, for his kind services throughout the year. George Gordon very ably proposed the toast to "The Church," which was heartily replied to by Dr. W. G. Wilson, who commended the Young People on the high calibre and well balanced nature of their programmes, and wished them every success in their summer activities.

REV. B. GRAY HONORED
A pleasing incident took place during the evening when Robert Wallace, on behalf of the executive and committee, presented Rev. B. Gray with a token of their sincere appreciation for his excellent leadership and keen interest in their work.

A vote of thanks was extended by Richard Holmes to the Misses Douglas, Heritage, Martin and Menzies of the Catering Committee, the Misses Cooper and McKay of the Decorating Committee, and the members of the Ladies' Guild for their help in preparing the banquet.

MAY DAY CALLED CHILD HEALTH DAY

BY JULIA BLANSHARD

MAY DAY challenges the civic pride of every community. In England, on the "merry first of May," folks gather on the green for Maypole dances. In Germany, France and other European countries, children hang baskets of colorful flowers on neighbors' front doors. This country turns all the happy symbolism of May Day into a drive for better health and opportunity for its dearest possession, its children.

MAY DAY IS CHILD HEALTH DAY
"How are your children? Have you clinics enough for them? Are you striving to prevent diphtheria, scarlet fever, and other diseases that take a huge child toll each year? Is your bulk supply first class and your water pure? How about your pre-school boys and girls? What is your baby death rate? Are you concerned with the physical care of your children?"

THE CHILD'S BILL OF RIGHTS
The ideal to which we should strive is that there shall be no child:
That has not been born under proper conditions;
That does not live in hygienic surroundings;
That suffers from under-nourishment;
That does not have prompt and efficient medical attention;
That does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and health;
That has not the complete birthright of a sound mind in a sound body;
That has not the encouragement to express in fullest measure the spirit within which is the final endowment of every human being.

IN FIGHT FOR CHILD HEALTH
These are some of the pertinent questions suggested by the Child Health Association for fit topics of discussion by Child Health Councils, school health talks, local movies and so on. This year special attention is paid to the parent co-operation in communities for the health of every child. Parent-teacher associations, General Federation of Women's Clubs, the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, lodges and all other adult organizations in the community are urged to give of their time and attention to help put their days at Vancouver, the guest of her brother-in-law, J. O. B. Mowatt, at Cypress Street.

LADY DAVIS ON STAND IN SUIT OVER ESTATE

Montreal, Que., April 30.—Examination of Lady Davis, one of two plaintiffs in the action to oust Lord Shaughnessy and A. M. Reaper as executors of the estate of the late Sir Mortimer Davis, may be completed to-day.

One witness was heard for the defence yesterday, Howard A. Fallon, mining engineer who is leaving for Europe and who asked to be heard so that he might not have to change his sailing date. Mr. Fallon explained his employment by Sir Mortimer Davis and his connection with the incorporated company after Sir Mortimer's death.

At the end of Monday's session, Lady Davis was explaining the events which led up to the action, set on foot against the present defendants and she continued her recital of facts yesterday. After having interviewed Mr. Reaper and had been told that the executors proposed to consider the incorporated company as an operating company and not as an arm of the estate, she took legal advice, consulting George H. Montgomery, K.C. Mr. Montgomery advised her to ask Lord Shaughnessy to place a representative on the board of directors of the incorporated company to look after her interests and he suggested F. G. Donaldson of the Montreal Trust Company for this post.

DID NOT TRUST HIM
Lord Shaughnessy, while he agreed to place her representative on the board, would not agree to the appointment of Mr. Donaldson. He suggested Mr. Weddell, former president of the company, but Lady Davis would not agree.

Later Lord Shaughnessy complained that she acted as though she did not trust him. He did not understand why she wanted a representative on the board, said she did not need a representative, that her husband had trusted him and that the affairs of the estate were in his care.

The name of George C. McDonald was then suggested and Lord Shaughnessy said he was quite acceptable. A few days later, however, Lord Shaughnessy wrote to Lady Davis to say that the by-laws of the company would not permit of Mr. McDonald's election as a director until the annual general meeting. The same letter made it clear, she said, that she would have to leave the board if Mr. McDonald was appointed.

TOLD TO "GO AHEAD"
Further negotiations were conducted until at a final interview, Lady Davis reiterated her demand that the company be operated as an arm of the estate. Lord Shaughnessy refused, she testified, and indicated letters he had in his possession from Sir Mortimer Davis instructed him how to run the company. She argued that these instructions were for his guidance during the lifetime of Sir Mortimer, but surely were not to be continued after his death. She said that unless Lord Shaughnessy changed his policy of what she considered speculation, she would go to the courts, he suggested she should go ahead, that she had more to lose than they had.

After the formal opening of the auditorium, recently completed at a cost in the neighborhood of $7,500, the assembled school children listened with delight to a programme staged by the pupils of the school who have entered for the Victoria Musical Festival. Choir singing brought rounds of applause, and this was interspersed with step-dancing in several attractive numbers.

This evening at 8 o'clock, the first adult concert will be held at the new auditorium, under the auspices of the teaching staff and the Parent-teacher Association. A fine programme of musical and other numbers has been arranged for the event. Parents and residents of the district are invited to attend.

The auditorium is a handsome structure, standing on the north side of the school grounds, and seating 500 people. It was designed to act as an assembly hall for the student body, the former absence of which had been keenly felt. The plans were prepared under the direction of the City School Board, and the work done by Parfitt Bros.

SAYS! TANLAC WITHOUT EQUAL FOR STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLES
Nurse Gives Remarkable Endorsement

Tanlac may seem miraculous in its action to millions who ended stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as rheumatism, pains in the back, sides, joints and muscles from its use—but the truth is every drop of Tanlac is a strong potent medicine while most other remedies are weak and ineffective. Mrs. B. Record, a nurse with many years' experience, is one who ought to know. She says: "In 10 years active nursing I have found Tanlac without an equal as a remedy for stomach and liver troubles, and I can certainly promise people who suffer in view of my long experience with this medicine, I had stomach troubles for years, could eat scarcely anything without suffering, never any appetite, always nervous and run-down. But as soon as I began Tanlac it started to build me right up. All stomach troubles were routed and never any pain, distress or gases again."

Many "patent medicines" make glowing promises that may tempt you to buy them. But remember Tanlac is a real medicine that backs its claim with a guarantee. Do not accept a substitute. At all drugists.

Public School Track Stars Prepare For Athletic Meets May 23

THE SPORTS MIRROR

DURING the next week or so in local sport circles the curtains will be drawn aside on the various summer sports. Hockey is in moth-balls for another season, football is gradually dying a hard death and the indoor bowlers have wound-up their winter activities.

Saturday afternoon the "Play Ball" try rings out at Royal Athletic Park, where the Senior Amateur Baseball League swings into action. Sons of Canada and the Jokers will be the opposing teams with Allie McGregor as chief arbitrator.

The Senior Ball League this year expects an increase in support. There have been a few noteworthy additions to the teams and the general line of competition is expected to be keen. Since the Capital lost its pro ball team—so long ago now that few people remember it—the amateurs have had to provide all the fun. They have done it fairly well at times, and at other times have been more or less indifferent. The same old squad has been trying on for the last few years with some of the stars dropping out and only a few youngsters coming along.

Wes Stickle and Lloyd Cann will be the opposing pitchers on Saturday. Stickle for the Jokers and Cann for the Sons. Let everybody get out to the ball park and give the boys a good send off.

Next Tuesday night the second crop of "baseballers" will start to sprout. These are the Garage Leaders, who are out on another chase after the trophy. Four squads are entered in this circuit, and will run through a twenty-four game schedule.

Meanwhile the rival game of softball will get going. During the last few years this game has caught the fancy of the youths even more than the hard ball game, and it may be for this reason the recruits for the senior squad are hard to find. The City Softball League has swelled to big proportions, taking up practically all available playing space in the city. The West-joins Loop has this year attracted much of the softball talent in the city, and although it only composed of teams some hotly-contested games are anticipated.

Joe O'Goofy, who claims to be a wizard at the Royal and Ancient Game, hereby gives a version of how he first managed to break the "century" mark. "As I sank a long, dangerous four-foot putt on No. 5, I added up my score and found a 98. With one more hole to go, I faced the certainty of going over 100. I took a nine on No. 9, which should have given me 109. After adding the total again, however, I discovered that what I should have been an eight on the first hole was only my score card as an eighteen. Correcting this error I found myself with 97. Walter Hagen, with whom I was playing that day, congratulated me on breaking 100 and welcomed me into the charmed circle."

If you want to break the hundred take the following hints, he says: Don't carry your extra balls around in your mouth. Don't wear boxing gloves while making a putt. Don't think of a bunker or a trap ahead of you. If the ball goes into it there is always a way to kick it out. Don't try for fancy shots in the rough. Always wear blunt-toed shoes. Don't break the left elbow too much. Try not to break the right either. After starting you back swing, try not to think of that 910 that you loaned the guy next door the day before he moved to the west side. Don't play.

GRIFFITHS AT CROSSROAD OF FISTIC CAREER

Bout With Gagnon To-night Will Mean Oblivion Or Restoration For Him

Maxie Rosenbloom and Larry Johnson Meet at Madison Square Garden

Chicago, April 30.—Revenge and restoration to his high rank among heavyweights or virtual fistic oblivion confront "Tuffy" Griffith to-night as he squares off for a return engagement with Jack Gagnon, a yok from Boston with an army mule's kick.

The tough one from Sioux City, Iowa, who to redeem himself for the six-round knockout, suffered at Gagnon's hands a month ago in Philadelphia, was the cross roads of his brilliant ring career and a capacity crowd of 20,000 spectators was expected to pay in excess of $50,000 to watch the battle, billed for ten rounds at the Chicago Stadium.

For Gagnon, a rugged type of fighter who unlike Griffith is willing to take five punches to land one, the match was equally important. Defeat would restore him to the rank he held before his first and stunning upset of Griffith—last in and outer Victory would help him prove that it wasn't a lucky punch that felled Griffith in Philadelphia, and would lift him up as one of the serious heavyweight championship contenders.

While odds were definitely in favor of Griffith when the rematch was made three weeks ago, they have dwindled almost to parity. Gagnon has impressed the many who have viewed his workouts, and he is directed by veteran ring trainers and handlers.

ROSENBLUM VS. JOHNSON
New York, April 30.—Madison Square Garden returns to its first love, boxing, to-night, with a famous ring clown and a husky young negro taking over the spotlight held for three weeks by the annual visit of the circus.

The principals are Maxie Rosenbloom, the Harlem Harlequin, and Larry Johnson, Chicago clownster, whose engagement in the big battle pit resulted in the foul that was heard round the boxing world.

After Maxie had been sunk by a low smash in the sixth round, the New York State Athletic Commission put into effect the drastic Baumes law for foul fighters, a graduate scale of punishment that ends with life suspension for a fourth offender. The commission also secured legislation that permits a $5,000 fine for low swinging. As a result there has not been a foul or foul claimed in a local ring for six weeks.

JOHNNY DOEG IS ENGAGED

Newark, N.J., April 30.—The engagement of Miss Dorothy Scudder to John Hope Doeg, third ranking tennis player in the United States and a member of this year's Davis Cup team, was announced to-day by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wallace Scudder of Newark and Rumson, N.J.

Miss Scudder, a debutante two years ago, is a granddaughter of Wallace M. Scudder, publisher of The Newark Evening News.

Mr. Doeg is the son of Mrs. Violet Sutton Hope Doeg, of Santa Monica, California.

Ontario Rugby Squad's Strategy Board Plans Offensive for Game Against Touring U.B.C. Fifteen

Toronto, April 30.—Believing they possess more strength on the scrum, the board of strategy of the Ontario rugby team, selected to meet the University of British Columbia in an exhibition match here on Saturday, are laying their plans accordingly.

The British Columbia squad use the New Zealand style of play, which requires only seven men on the forward staff. The other eight are arranged with two at half, four at three-quarters, a fullback and a five-eighths. Ontario, on the other hand, will play the English style—eight forwards in the scrum, four three-quarters, two halves and a fullback. This will give them extra power in the scrummages which they hope to capitalize on by securing the ball more frequently than before to start offensive plays.

BIG JAPANESE GRAPPLER TO MEET ALLEY

Taro Miyake, Former Jujitsu Champ, in Tillicum's Main Event

Terrible Turk and "Masked Marvel" Matched in Semi-windup

Taro Miyake, former world's jujitsu wrestling champion and probably one of the most colorful of present-day grapplers, will make his second appearance at the Tillicum gymnasium Saturday night when he steps into the ring to meet Tom Alley, Australian grappler, in the eight-round main event.

The Japanese wrestler showed here about a month ago with Charlie Hansen and proved very popular with the fans. Elusive, agile and fully conversant with all the tricks of the mat-patience, Miyake is capable of providing an interesting session.

MASKED MARVEL
The semi-windup, which is scheduled to go five eight-minute rounds, will introduce a newcomer to local grappling fans in the person of the "Masked Marvel." This mysterious person will appear in the semi-windup with the Terrible Turk, who of late has made Seattle his home town. The Turk is well known to Victoria fans following his bout here with "Rocky" Brooks on the Southernberg-Struse card. Strong, with a good knowledge of the bone bending and twisting game, Pasha will undoubtedly be quite capable of taking care of himself against his masked opponent. One other bout has to be arranged to complete the card.

Tickets for the show are now on sale at Two Jacks, Government Street; F. B. Richardson's, 738 Yates Street; Empire Cigar Stand, Douglas Street.

Three Local Golf Tournaments Get Underway Sunday

Pittsburgh Takes Lead In National By Walloping Cubs

New York Giants Go Under to Brooklyn in Slug-fest as Pirates Take McCarthy's Men; One Big Inning Decides Four Out of Seven Big League Ball Games; Robins Score Eleven Runs in One Inning; Joe Sewell in 1,101 Consecutive Games.

The idea of having one big inning to win a baseball game seems to be coming more and more into favor in the major leagues, either by accident or intent. Of the seven big league games played yesterday, three were decided directly by the one big inning while the same factor had an important bearing on the result of the Brooklyn-New York slugging match in which most of the innings were big. The Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals had no chance to hit, due to wet grounds.

The Robins and Giants carried the idea to its limit as Brooklyn won for the second time in a row by a score of 19 to 15. Brooklyn scored eleven runs off four Giant pitchers in the second frame, only to have the Manhattan warriors come back with a nine-run third frame.

Philadelphia's National League Club likewise won an entire game in one inning with the Boston Braves as their victims. Philadelphia suddenly started hitting in the eighth to score all its runs in an 8 to 2 triumph.

Pittsburgh, Pirates, gave Chicago Cubs seven runs in the first three innings, and got them all back in one to beat the National League champions 13 to 9. It was the Pirates' ninth victory in eleven games, and put them at the top of the National League standings. Washington Senators produced the only big inning in the four American League games to win their eighth in a row. They also gave away seven runs in three innings, then tied the score in the third as they defeated New York Yankees 11 to 8.

NACKMEN WIN
The champion Philadelphia Athletics led by Al Simmons and Mickey Cochrane beat the Boston Red Sox 9 to 5. Old Red Faber, of the Chicago White Sox, brought forth one of the day's two good pitching feats as Chicago downed the Detroit Tigers 8 to 6. Faber gave fourteen hits, but fanned seven.

THE BIG SIX
Only a few of baseball's "Big Six" profited from the heavy hitting in yesterday's games. Al Simmons and Babe Ruth led the clouters for the day, but George Fisher went back into the lead without lifting a bat. Simmons got four hits in five trips against the Red Sox, while Ruth connected for the three doubles in four times up against Washington, to join the 300 hitters for the first time this season. Simmons shot to 425 but could not keep pace with Jamieson of Cleveland, who hit three times in three tries to regain leadership of the American League and membership in the "Big Six" with a 429. While Fisher was idle at Cincinnati, Paul Wanner failed to hit in four times at bat against the Cubs and dropped to second place with 453. Rogers Hornsby, with one hit, went down to 358.

DUCKS BEAT STARS
Portland, April 30.—Portland won yesterday's game from Hollywood after two were out in the tenth, 6 to 5, when Oake Orwell tore all the way home from first base in a head-up exhibition of base running, on Joe Bowman's single.
Previously the Beaver-Ducks had overcome a four-run Hollywood lead with a three-run rally in the eighth and another for the tying score in the ninth.

Johnny Made Comeback

By JIMMY THOMPSON

Each year about this time marathon races become a more and more popular sport, bringing out the greatest marathon runners in the world. Not only do these events attract attention as road races but they display the art of perfect condition. Recently the question was raised as to why Clarence DeMar continually galloped off with first place in the greatest classic. DeMar has a rigid code of condition, not three months before a race, but twelve months a year. He never smokes or drinks, takes lots of sleep and remains in physical training the whole year around. He runs to work in the morning—a distance of approximately fifteen miles—and at night gallops back again; that alone is strenuous training for any athlete. Then comes the question of mental strain. In 1927, in the Boston marathon, Johnny Miles, this country's foremost runner, pulled a new one when he didn't finish the grind and hopped on the side of a motor car. Johnny took his raspberry from the Boston press although it hurt and he lost confidence for a while. It did him a lot of good, he assumed a more serious attitude towards his work and when he won again in Boston in 1928, he reached a point of indifference regarding criticism from the press. There is, however, still one thing that the Sydney "phantom" hasn't beaten, and that's heat. Johnny will show his heels to anyone on a cold rainy day, but just let it be hot and he blisters up and fades. Johnny sticks close to his training programme and that is the reason why we will probably hear from this Nova Scotia boy again before long.

GUS DID NOT NEED HITS TO GET TO FIRST

Chicago, April 30.—Gus Subr, Pittsburgh first baseman, got his walking papers in grand and unusual style from the Cubs yesterday. In six trips to the plate he drew five bases on balls. The all-time Major League record for charity trips is six.

Dick Wilson Named President Of "Big Four" Rugby League

Vancouver, April 30.—R. B. "Dick" Wilson, prominent in Canadian rugby in Victoria for the last two or three years, was elected president of the Big Four League at the annual meeting here. It was stated that the union would again be composed of Victoria, V.A.C., Monmouth and New Westminster. President Jack Morgan of New Westminster was in the chair. Dr. Gordon Burke and Sam Crossley were elected vice-presidents with Jack Benthon re-elected secretary-treasurer. Hon. Justice W. A. Macdonald is the honorary president while Mayor A. Wells Gray of New Westminster, Mayor W. H. Malkin, A. W. Housner and Dean L. S. Kline are honorary vice-presidents.

Championships of Oak Bay, Colwood, Uplands At Stake

Qualifying Rounds at Three Major Courses in City To Be Played This Week-end; Cream of Local Golfers Will Be Entered in Three Competitions; Art Beasley, Norm Wallace and Bob Morrison to Defend Titles.

Championships of the three major golf clubs of Victoria and district will be at stake during the next few weeks when the annual titular tournaments are in progress. Qualifying rounds will all be played next Sunday.

The cream of the city's men golfers will be out on the links at Colwood, Uplands and the Victoria Club for the events which are the most important club matches of the year. Heavy entry lists are expected for all three contests.

The champions of the various clubs at the present time are: Colwood, Norman Wallace; Uplands, Bob Morrison; Oak Bay, Art Beasley. They will all turn out to defend their titles against the best competition the club memberships can provide.

YOUNGEST CHAMP
Wallace, who is the youngest champion in the city, having only reached the age of seventeen, was formerly the titleholder at the Macaulay Club. Although he was eliminated in the semi-final play at that club this year, he has been practicing hard for the Colwood competition and hopes to repeat his victory there. Last year he defeated R. J. Darcus in the finals.

Harold Linham, winner of the mid-winter tournament, Frank Thomas, Jack Matson, Percy Edmonds, Goldie Terry, R. J. Darcus and other expert club-wielders will provide some of the opposition to Wallace's hopes.

The first and second rounds will be played May 11, the third and fourth on May 18 and the final on May 25.

FOR BOWL TROPHY
The Harvey Combe Bowl, held by Art Beasley, will be at stake with the title of the Victoria Golf Club. The qualifying round will be over the eighteen-hole route and the low sixteen will form the championship flight. Those failing to gain the select group will be formed into flights of sixteen. One round will be played each week until June 1, when the new champion will be crowned.

Among the stars at Oak Bay who will attempt to deprive Beasley of the title will be Jack Matson, A. V. Price, Alex. Watson, Desmond Barrett, Harold and Dick Wilson and Alan Taylor.

THIRTY-SIX HOLES
Uplands will stage a thirty-six hole qualifying round. Owing to the fact that the entry list for the club championship was exceptionally heavy last year, the title had been split into "A" and "B" groups, the "B" championship having already been won by Jack Watson. Only those with handicaps of eighteen or under are eligible for the "A" title, so that the play throughout should be close.

Entries for the Uplands battle close on Friday at 4 o'clock. The various rounds will be played each Sunday over the eighteen-hole route and the final will be a thirty-six hole affair.

MANY WILL HONOR MEMORY OF BAR LEADER

REGRET IN BRITAIN

By Thos. T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent, London, April 30.—Word of the death in Ottawa yesterday of Eugene Lafleur, K.C., celebrated Montreal barrister, was received with unfeigned regret in London, not only by Canadian lawyers, who happen to be here for Canadian appeals before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, but by many eminent British men of law with whom Mr. Lafleur came into contact during his many visits here.

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council never sits on Wednesdays, but at the opening of business to-morrow Lord Dunedin, presiding over the present session, will pay a tribute to the memory of Mr. Lafleur.

The London Times to-day said Mr. Lafleur combined profound knowledge of the law with great skill as an advocate. His reputation as counsel in the last twenty years was comparable with that of Sir John Simon in Great Britain.

Going from his home in Montreal to Ottawa in the middle of last week to conduct a case before the Supreme court of Canada, Mr. Lafleur was stricken, and from the first there were grave fears he could survive because he had not a robust constitution and was seventy-four years of age. However, for a time he seemed to be getting the better of the disease and even yesterday morning he appeared to be on the mend.

HEART FAILED
Death came very suddenly. Mr. Lafleur had been in fairly good spirits and had been able to take nourishment only a few minutes before he died. Shortly before 6 o'clock his heart failed.

With him at the bedside were his daughters—Mrs. J. Pearson and Miss Violet Lafleur, his son, Gilbert, and the latter's wife, all of Montreal. His brother, Dr. N. A. Lafleur, also of Montreal, had visited him several times in the last few days, but was not present when death came.

ARBITRATION APPOINTMENT
Mr. Lafleur was prominently connected with most of the largest litigation which Canada has had in recent years. He was to have acted as the Dominion's representative on the board of arbitration which is to investigate the schooner 'Im Alone' dispute with the United States.

For many years a familiar figure before the courts of Montreal, the son preme Court of Canada at Ottawa, and the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in London, was that of Eugene Lafleur, K.C. Hardly a great constitutional case came up for decision but Mr. Lafleur was on one side or the other. Of him Lord Macnaughton, one of the members of the Privy Council, said: "Of all the overseas counsel coming to plead cases before this body, Mr. Lafleur has the clearest and most judicial mind."

BORN IN LONGUEUIL

Mr. Lafleur was born in Longueuil, Quebec, in 1856, and was of Swiss descent. He was educated at the Montreal High School and McGill University, graduating from the latter institution as gold medalist in mental and moral philosophy. He finished his law training in 1881 and was called to the bar of Montreal in that year. He was created Queen's counsel in 1899.

As a lawyer the bar of his province extended to him all the honors at its command. He was elected barrister of the Montreal bar in 1903, barrister-general of the province in the following year and councillor of the Montreal bar in 1908. In October, 1921, during the centennial celebration of McGill University, Mr. Lafleur was granted an honorary degree of LL.D. in recognition of his long association with the institution as professor of international law and his eminence as a lawyer.

Celebrated cases in which Mr. Lafleur acted as counsel were the Alberta Resources issue before the Supreme Court at Ottawa and for Quebec in the arbitration suit between the Federal government and Ontario and Quebec for the settlement of the outstanding accounts existing at confederation.

BOUNDARY ARBITRATION
Mr. Lafleur's outstanding qualifications in the realm of international law secured for him the position as one of the arbitrators in the settlement of the boundary dispute between the United States and Mexico in 1911. The point in dispute was the boundary line between the two countries in the Chamael district north of El Paso.

Mr. Lafleur twice declined a judgeship, once in 1907 and again within the last two years. He declined nomination as a candidate in the provincial election of 1904 for a Montreal seat.

Besides being the author of numerous papers on legal subjects, he published a book on the "Conflicts in the Law in Quebec," which attracted wide attention and probably was responsible for some anomalies being adjusted. For some years as a young man Mr. Lafleur was one of the editors of The Revue Legale, published in Montreal.

Mr. Lafleur resided in Montreal. In 1889 he married Marie Alice Voruz, daughter of Louis Voruz, of Switzerland. They had two sons and two daughters. Lafleur was a Liberal and an Anglican. He was a member of the St. James and University Clubs in Montreal and the Rideau Club in Ottawa.

CITIZENS ARE ASKED TO AID IN CAPTURE

Seattle Sheriff Urges Them to Help Catch E. E. Lindsay, Accused of Murder

Seattle, April 30.—Classifying him as an arch-criminal, Sheriff Claude O. Bannick to-day appealed for civilian aid in an effort to apprehend Everett Frank Lindsay, charged with the murder of his wife, whose body was found wrapped in burlap in a grave behind a barn at their home in a lonely section of the city.

"Lindsay has committed one of the worst crimes in the history of the Northwest," said Bannick. "We must get that man, but we need the help of every individual in the Northwest to do it."

HAS HEAD START

"He has such a start on us that he has had ample time to get out of the country. I would not be surprised to have him turn up in Australia. He had talked of that country before. With the great discrepancy in the ages of himself and the little girl, Pearl, he would excite no suspicion, particularly when he could prove she was his adopted daughter."

The very enormity of the crime would in itself allay suspicion. He is a personable fellow and if his funds were sufficient, there is no doubt he has made a good man miles since he left here Easter morning."

While the sheriff was working on the theory that Lindsay took the girl with him, other officials believed she did not go at all. No one saw them drive away together. The theory has been advanced that Lindsay killed her and hid the body to keep her from talking. Bannick doubted a report that Lindsay had been seen here last night.

PRETTY WEDDING HELD AT DUNCAN

Miss Katie Smith Becomes Bride of Ralph K. Bell of Kamloops

Special to The Times

Somenos, April 30.—Miss Katie Smith, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Smith of Somenos, and Ralph Kennedy Bell, son of the late A. W. V. Bell and Mrs. Bell of Victoria, were united in marriage this morning at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. W. F. Burns officiating at the pretty ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and dogwood, the bride's arch being arranged by friends of the bride. P. B. Dobson played Mendelssohn's Wedding March. The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of white satin and lace. Her veil fell from beneath a coronet of orange blossom and she carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Kathleen Taylor, cousin of the bride, wore a pink georgette dress and hat to match, was bridesmaid and carried a bouquet of lilies and sweet peas. Miss Muriel Anderson of Victoria, niece of the bridegroom, was groomed in pale yellow flat crepe and hat and carried a bouquet of lilies and sweet peas. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Beasley sang "O Promise Me." After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell received many beautiful gifts, among them a handsome set of silver from the Vernon Hospital staff, of which the bride was supervisor. The groom's gift to the bride was a white gold necklace and diamond pendant; to the bridesmaids, necklaces; to the best man, J. Morris Smith, gold cuff links.

The couple left by car for Qualicum en-route to Kamloops, where they will reside; the bride traveling in white silk suit and grey tweed coat with hat to match.

NAMES MENTIONED

Hon. J. E. Sinclair and R. J. Jenkins, Liberal members for the dual constituency of Queens, P.E.I., and A. E. MacLean, Liberal member for Prince, P.E.I., are mentioned for Cabinet appointment. Another name prominent associated with the appointment of Dr. Cyrus MacMillan, a professor of McGill University and formerly of Prince Edward Island, Dr. MacMillan was a member of the Atlantic Fisheries Commission.

Creation of a separate Department of Fisheries with a minister and deputy presiding at its head was recommended by the Duncan Royal Commission, which investigated conditions in the Maritime Provinces in 1925 and 1926.

About a year ago W. A. Pound was appointed Deputy Minister of Fisheries to carry on such duties under the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Hon. P. J. A. Gardin. Under the proposed legislation, Captain MacPherson informed Captain Beck and his counsel that his ship would be allowed to clear to-night.

The inquiry would conclude its sessions this afternoon.

In completing his testimony, Captain Beck paid tribute to the work of the pilot. Asked everything had been done by the pilot that was necessary he responded:

"Everything that could be done was done and the pilot was one of the best men I have ever had on my bridge. I would have the same pilot handle my ship again and he glad of his assistance. As a matter of fact, he floated the vessel through the span only a few hours after the accident."

DECISION RESERVED

These facts emerged from a hearing of the West Kootenay Company's application covering its proposed dam at Cedar Creek, near the mouth of the Pend Oreille. To this the Reeves-McDonald interests took strong objection, charging that it was an attempt to "freeze" them out of the river altogether. The Board reserved its decision on the whole issue.

The announcement of the Reeves-McDonald Company that it will not buy power from the West Kootenay Company apparently upsets an arrangement suggested by the government some time ago. At that time, the government indicated that it would allow the West Kootenay Company to harness the whole river, provided it supplied the mining company with power at reasonable rates, which were definitely fixed. To-day the Reeves-McDonald interests, through their counsel, D. N. Hossie, declared they could not operate successfully with purchased power and would not try to do so. As a result, they said, their mine would lie idle permanently if the West Kootenay Company controlled the entire river, and the province would lose heavily by this lack of development.

The West Kootenay Company, through its counsel, F. G. C. Lucas, C. C. contended that the Water Board could not consider these matters as they were not affected by the single application before it. This application covers a dam of 150 feet at Cedar Creek, near the mouth of the Pend Oreille and does not command the entire flow of the river. The West Kootenay Company also has applied for the right to build a dam of 165 feet higher up the River at Seven Mile, but this application was not formally before the board to-day.

Besides offering its proposed compromise, the Reeves-McDonald interests objected on legal grounds to the present application and produced lengthy arguments to show that it was not sound. Mr. Lucas contended, however, that it was entirely in order.

FOR BETTER ROADS

More than $2,000,000 a year is being spent in the United States every year for the construction and maintenance of streets and highways, according to Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile Association.

May 24 street parade are now being filed. The first entry to be made was that of a float to be shown by the Central School Old Boys Reunion. The Colodet Aircraft League entered a float soon afterwards, and many many inquiries are being made by those intending to enter decorated cars and floats.

Inquiries as to this and other features of the May 24 plans should be addressed to Harold Palmer, general secretary of the committee in charge of the plans.

Shot from Guns

125 million food cells exploded
That's what makes Puffed Grains crisp... delicious... virtually as nourishing as hot cooked cereals

YOU may have wondered why Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are so light and crunchy... so meltingly good to eat.

Here's the secret. They are made by an utterly different process from all other ready-to-eat cereals. Grains of wheat and rice are sealed in bronze guns. The guns are revolved in fiery ovens. In this terrific heat the natural grain moisture in each tiny food cell expands into steam.

When the guns are fired, 125 million explosions occur in each grain. Every tiny food cell is completely broken up. (Just as it would be from long hours of cooking.) Hence every particle of food is completely digestible. This is why Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are rated as virtually as nourishing as hot cooked cereals.

When these grains come forth in showers from the guns, they've been puffed to 8 times normal size. They're crisp, fragile, crunchy... deliciously good to eat. They taste like sweet new nutmeats. Like fresh buttered popcorn. You'll say you never before dreamed that wheat and rice could be so meltingly good to eat.

Don't neglect to give your family this order delicious... more richly nourishing cereal. Order Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice from your grocer today.

BUSINESS INCREASE REPORTED BY LEADERS

Mr. Harvey said many new factories had come into production on the prairies and that the value of the products in 1929 totaled more than $340,000,000, and all provinces—Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta—had shared in the development.

SASKATCHEWAN'S ADVANCE

Saskatchewan, famed as a wheat producing province, has also laid claim to be a manufacturing province of importance, said Harvey.

Last year the manufacturing industries of the province had distributed a payroll of more than $75,000,000, and the general public was rapidly coming to the realization that factories had a definite value to the community. In industrial workers created a "home market."

W. A. McKay, of Winnipeg, was elected chairman to succeed Mr. Harvey.

Pender Island

Residents of Browning Harbor enjoyed a new thrill Friday evening, when the Alaska-Washington Airways' seaplane, piloted by Capt. MacKenzie, made a graceful landing in the harbor for the purpose of landing Fred McGreggor at his summer home. The plane, which left Victoria at 5:31 p.m., on her regular trip to Vancouver, made the distance in twenty minutes, continuing with her capacity number of passengers to the mainland port. Capt. MacKenzie expressed himself as being highly pleased with the general layout of Browning Harbor as a landing place, it being possible to descend from either direction, and is just mid-way on the direct Victoria-Vancouver route. Master Bruce McGreggor, Ken Davies, Bill Kennedy and Graham McPadden, all members of the Boys' Model Plane

Club of Victoria, who have been spending the Easter holidays at Browning Harbor, headed the welcoming party of residents, who greeted the seaplane.

On Friday, Rev. S. Syme, vicar, took a merry party of boys on a launch trip and hike to South Pender. Rev. William Lawson of the United Church accompanied them, and all thoroughly enjoyed the outing.

Mrs. A. E. Graddock and daughter, Hulda, returned to Vancouver last week after spending a fortnight at home.

Mrs. F. Moore and son, David, spent several days in Vancouver last week, returning to Port Washington on Monday.

The Misses Helen and Lois Stout, Isabel Corbett, Kathleen Sykes, Fanny Cumming and Master Stewart Corbett, who have been attending High School, spent the holidays at their respective homes.

Mrs. T. Newham and little grandson came down from Vancouver for the holidays.

Mrs. D. G. MacDonald and son, Ronnie, returned home from Victoria last week, where they have been for the last two months. Mrs. MacDonald's twin nieces, the Misses Verna and Louise Quinn of Vancouver, have been spending the holidays with her.

Capt. A. R. Phelps and Mrs. Phelps and family spent last week at the Captain's former home here as guests of his mother, Mrs. F. Phelps.

The Island's first spring flower show held on Saturday last in Hope Bay Hall, was an outstanding success. Opened by the president of the Farmers' Institute, J. B. Stiggins, the show was well attended, and the surprisingly large number of flowers exhibited made a very encouraging display. Tulips predominated, both early and Darwin varieties, while in the children's wild flower exhibit as many as thirteen different varieties were included.

LARGER RETAIL AREA SOUGHT

Extension of Retail Zoning and Auto Camp Regulation Discussed

An extension of retail zoning classification along Douglas, Fort and Quadra Streets, was recommended to the city zoning committee at a joint meeting of representatives of that committee with the Real Estate Board and the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon. The meeting also discussed the regulation of auto camps within the city limits. Further recommendations are to be made.

Some residents on Yates and Fort Streets, between Cook and Harrison Streets, petitioned for retail classification of that area. Garage classification was asked for property at the intersection of Yates and Fort Streets, to permit of the erection of a service station. The Real Estate Board asked an extension of retail areas on Fort, Douglas and Quadra, for the future development of the three arterial highways.

Discussion on auto camps was taken up by the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce. Better regulations for the control of these camps, the registry of guests and other means of control would remove much of the objection that has been aimed against this class of facility for the tourist, it was stated.

The zoning committee took all points under advisement and will receive further recommendations from both bodies in due course. Present at the meeting were Aldermen Strath, Litchfield and Woodward of the zoning committee; Frank Waring, tourist trade group; Stewart Clark, James Ferman, M. Kirkpatrick-Crockett and David Leeming, Real Estate Board.

ASKS AID FOR CHILDREN FUND

Fred Landsberg Says "Save the Children Fund" Needs Gifts

"The tender age of the Armenian and other refugees who some eight or ten years ago became the wards of our benevolent world generosity, and more particularly of benevolent people in the British Isles, the Dominions and the United States of America, is the reason why the appeal of the Save the Children Fund should still find a response in the hearts and pockets of our citizens," said Fred Landsberg, local treasurer for the fund. Of the immense total of 150,000 who have been fed, cared for and received training, Mr. Landsberg announced that fully 120,000 of them have grown into youth and are now established in the way of self-support. But there remain about 32,000 who are still needing attention and care, and will for some years to come.

The magnificent generosity that was shown in caring for the children who were wrecked from the wreckage of the Great War has written one of the noblest chapters in human history. In this enterprise Canada, and more particularly the British Empire, and Vancouver Island took a worthy share. Citizens will recall the "golden rule" dinner at the Empress Hotel in 1925 at which the sum of $5000 was subscribed in a comparatively few minutes. Since that time this form of benevolence has been supported by a considerable number of people although to a lessened extent every year. While the contributions flowed into the treasurer's office some years ago at the rate of $100 a month, not more than one-quarter of that amount was given last year.

While it is true that a lesser amount is required than formerly, Mr. Landsberg stated the time was also come for withdrawal of support. "The appealing face of the refugee child should not fade from the imagination of the generous citizen," he declared, "the recent influx into Syria of the last remnants of Armenians who have been practically turned out of the Turkish Empire round Elahad and Dabekir, and are arriving at the rate of fifty to 100 a day, has brought the usual quota of little ones and has put an additional responsibility upon our supporters of the fund."

"It is evident that the need is still quite urgent," he pointed out. "The first Sunday in May has been for some years the day when gifts for special gifts for this worthy object and the appeal in view of the circumstances should not go unheeded," Mr. Landsberg urged.

The Canadian branch of the Save the Children Fund, which has its headquarters in London, England, centres at Toronto, and the honorable treasurer is R. J. Dilworth, 668 Huron Street. The separation some time ago from the Near East Relief, which has its headquarters in New York City, has been advantageous in view of the increased need for funds.

Mr. Landsberg said that the fund is now in a position to receive gifts of ten per cent in the American organization but only three per cent in the Canadian. Of all that is given here, however, every cent is forwarded through the generosity of the treasurer, to its destination.

Local Collectors Awarded Prizes in Stamp Exhibition

A Pearce and R. Malrae, of Victoria, captured third prizes in the specialized group of Canadian, red 1868-1900 stamps and Cayman Island cachets respectively in the Philatelic Society's exhibition held in Vancouver last week.

A feature of the exhibition was the interesting display of A. Liechtenstein, of New York, who showed large blocks and sheets of British Columbia stamps of very rare varieties. Among them was a choice pair of five-cent Vancouver Island stamps in brilliant mint condition. They were thought to be the only ones of their kind in existence.

IT FILLS STADIA

In the January 25th issue of the Saturday Evening Post, John R. Tunis says this about daily newspapers:

"The thing that has made football what it is to-day, that has pushed it into the front wave of sports in the United States, is the press. Newspaper publicity fills stadia, and don't you forget it."

And daily newspapers fill more than football stadia

They fill manufacturers' pockets and retailers' cash registers with the proceeds of the sales of those products which are in constant demand because they are consistently advertised in the daily press.

It is daily newspaper advertising that keeps this brand of tea or that make of cereal in the "front wave" of consumer preference.

It is daily newspaper advertising that leads housewives in every part of the Dominion to buy this make of soup or that brand of soap.

It is daily newspaper advertising that influences men from Halifax to Vancouver to buy this razor or that collar.

It is daily newspaper advertising that maintains a constant flow of goods from maker to merchant to consumer.

Daily newspaper advertising is the most powerful instrument available to manufacturer, distributor or retailer for influencing buying habits—either of the nation as a whole or a particular section of it.

And well do they realize it because years of actual experience have shown them that the results secured from daily newspapers are far greater than can be obtained from any other advertising medium.

Daily newspapers sell most goods because they are read by most buyers.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, April 30.—Wheat: The wheat market opened weak, with prices declining 1½¢ under yesterday's close, but the market staged a surprising reaction of two cents and advanced ½¢ over the previous close. During the first period there was some buying by seaboard houses against overnight export sales.

So far as could be judged the upturn was largely due to month-end short covering, while offerings were light and the liquidation not as heavy as was expected. There was scattered liquidation in the May but was mostly offset by buying the July, and the spread widened out to 1½¢.

A bullish crop report from the southwest and a report that the farm board were going to take delivery of May wheat to-morrow, brought in some buying support, but even at that this market seemed to be stronger than Chicago.

Seaboard estimated sales at from 500,000 to 600,000 bushels, mostly Manitoba, but the figures were probably a little larger. Some exporters estimated the sales at close to 1,000,000 bushels. There was a pretty fair demand for cash wheat, particularly for 3 and 3 northern. There was no new feature to the flour trade for the finish, but the inquiry from abroad seems to be a little better.

From Rotterdam came reports that United States wheat were offering flour at dumping prices, handicapping business. Germany will require to buy considerable foreign wheat during the next three months, despite the import duty of 97, according to Broomfield.

Rains were again received in a winter wheat territory, while showers were received over the spring wheat belt. The crop situation in North America is now quite favorable, and it is not likely there will be any complaints of drought for some time now. Wheat seedling in western Canada is about 70 per cent completed, according to The Free Press report, while conditions are mostly favorable.

Cash grains: There was little or no feature to these markets, which are largely influenced by the trend of wheat. Prices were firm most of the day, but eased off near the finish, barley again losing ground. The cash demand is small and is only for small lots.

Flax: Steady and unchanged. In the May, but closed ¼¢ lower in the deferred months. Very little doing and no feature.

HELEN WITH THE HIGH HAND

AN IDYLIC DIVERSION

By ARNOLD BENNETT

"The ideal" she continued. "As if I hadn't looked after mother and kept her in order, and myself, too, for several years. No. She wouldn't marry him and go out there! And she wouldn't marry him and stay here. She actually began to talk all the usual conventional sort of stuff, you know—about how she had no right to marry again, and she didn't believe in second marriages, and about her duty to me. And so on. You know, I reasoned with her—I explained to her that probably she had another thirty years to live. I told her she was quite young. She is. And why should she make herself permanently miserable, and Mr. Bratt, and me, merely out of a quite mistaken sense of duty? No use! I tried everything. I could. No use!"

"She was too much for you?"

"Oh no!" said Helen condescendingly. "I'd made up my mind. I arranged things with Mr. Bratt. He agreed with me. He took out a licence at the registrar's, and one Saturday morning—it had to be a Saturday, because I'm busy all the other days—I went out with mother to buy the meat and things for Sunday's dinner, and I got her into the registrar's office—and, well, there she was! Now, what do you think?"

"What?"

"Her last excuse was that she couldn't be married because she was wearing her third-best hat. Don't you think it's awfully funny?"

"That's as may be," said James.

"When was all this?"

"Just recently," Helen answered. "They sailed from Glasgow last Thursday but two. And I'm expecting a letter by every post to say that they've arrived safely."

"And Susan's left you to take care of yourself?"

"Now, please don't begin talking like mother," Helen said frigidly. "I've certainly got less to take care of now than I had. Mother quite saw that. But what difficulty I had in getting her off, even after I'd safely married her! I had to promise that if I felt lonely I'd go and join them. But I shan't."

"No. I don't see myself on a farm in Manitoba. Do you?"

"I don't know as I do," said James.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

examining her appearance, with constant increase of his pride in it. "So do," he said. "I reckon she made a great fuss."

"Fuss?"

"Oh yes, of course."

"Did you cry, miss?"

"Of course, I cried," said Helen passionately, sitting up straight. "Why do you ask such questions?"

"And you'll never see Susan again?"

"Of course I shall go over and see them," said Helen. "I only meant that I shouldn't go to stop. I daisy it shall go next year, in the holidays."

Chapter IV

They were most foolishly happy as they sat there on the bench, this man whose dim eyes ought to have been waiting placidly for the ship of death to appear above the horizon, and this young girl who imagined that she knew all about life and the world. When I say that they were foolishly happy, I of course mean that they were most wisely happy. Each of them, being gifted with common sense, and with a certain imperiousness to sentimentality which invariably accompanies common sense, they did not mar the present by regretting the tragic stupidity of a long estrangement; they did not mourn over wasted years that could not be recalled. It must be admitted, in favour of the Five Towns, that when its inhabitants spill milk they do not usually sit down on the pavement and adulterate the milk with their tears. They pass on. Such passing on is termed callous and cold-hearted in the rest of England, which loves to sit down on pavements and weep into irretrievable milk.

"Nor did Helen and her great-stepuncle mar the present by worrying about the future; it never occurred to them to be disturbed by the possibility that milk not already spilt might yet be spilt."

Helen had been momentarily saddened by private reflections upon what James Ollershaw had accused in his career; and James had been saddened, somewhat less, by reminiscences which had sprung out of Helen's laugh. But their melancholies had rapidly evaporated in the warmth of the unexpected encounter. They liked one another. She liked him because he was old and dry, and because he had a sharp laugh, and a cynical and even wicked gleam of the eye that pleased her; and because there was an occasional tone in his voice that struck her as deliciously masculine, ancient and indulgent; and because he had spoken to her first, and because his gaze wandered with an admiring interest over her dress and up into the dome of her sunshade; and because he put his chin in his palm and leaned his head towards her, and because the skin of his hand was so crinkled and glossy. And he liked her because she was so exquisitely fresh and candid, and perhaps because of a curve in her cheek, and a mysterious suggestion of eternal enigmas in her large and liquid eyes. When she looked right away from him, as she sometimes did in the conversation, the outline of her soft cheek, which drew in at the eye and swelled out again to the temple, resembled a map of the coast of some smooth, romantic country not mentioned in geographies. When she looked at him, well, the whole thing astonished him; but it enchanted him. He was discovering for the first time the soul of a girl, and he was a little taken aback by it. He was a younger man than he had been taken back by that discovery. But James Ollershaw did not behave as a younger man would have behaved. He was more like some one who having heard that the sea was very deep, and having paid no attention to rumor, suddenly sees a rose in early bloom at his feet, and then he goes to treat a flower; one knows what flowers are for.

It was no doubt this knowledge of what flowers are for that almost led to the spilling of milk. It was a whole moment when milk-spilling seemed in a high degree improbable.

The conversation had left Susan and her caprices, and had reached Helen and her solid wisdom.

"What you haven't told me what you're doing 'Bosley,' said the old man."

"I've told you I'm living here," said Helen. "I've now been living here for one week and one day. I'm teaching at the Park Road Board School. I got transferred from Longshaw. I never liked Longshaw, and I always had a change."

"Yes," said Ollershaw judiciously, of the two I reckon as Bosley is the trying-pan. So you're teaching 'up yonder'?" He jerked his elbow in the direction of the spacious and imposing terrace-front. Board-school, which front looked on the eastern gates of the park. "What dost teach?"

"Oh, everything," Helen replied. "You must be very kind to 'lend' me."

"What do they pay you for teaching everything?"

"Seventy-two pounds," said Helen. "A month." "It'd be cheap at a hundred, less, unless you know how to crowd on 'em as can teach everything. Can you sew?"

"Sew!" she exclaimed. "I've given lessons in sewing for years, and cookery. And mathematics. I used to give evening lessons in mathematics at Longshaw secondary school."

Great-stepuncle James gasped at her. He was useless for him to try to pretend to himself that he was not, secretly, struck all of a heap by the wonders of the living organism in front of him. He was. And this shows, though he was a wise man and an experienced, how ignorant he was of the world. But I do not think he was more ignorant of the world than most wise and experienced men are.

He conceived Helen Rathbone as an extraordinary, an amazing creature. Nothing of the kind. There are simply thousands of agreeable and good-looking girls who can accomplish herring-bone, omelette, and simultaneous equations in a breath, as it were. They are all over the kingdom, and may be met in the streets and lanes thereof about half-past eight in the morning and again about five o'clock in the evening. But the fact is not generally known. Only the school boards and Education Committees know it. And they are so used to marvel at their own knowledge that they make no account of it. However, James Ollershaw had no intention of striking his flag.

"Mathematics!" he murmured. "I say you can't tell me the interest on eight-and-nine pounds for six months at four and a half per cent."

"Consoles happened to be at eighty-nine that day."

"I really ought to surprise you should encourage me to gamble," said she. "But I'll bet you a shilling I can. And I'll bet you one shilling against me that I can't do it in my head, if you like. And if I lose I'll pay."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Whistle

Copyright, 1930

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Mr. Twistytail, the pig gentleman, lived across the brook from Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow, and the brook was very wide near the home of Mr. Longears. At least Uncle Wiggily thought so. At one time Uncle Wiggily used to hop a mile up the brook to a place where it was narrow enough for him to jump across. For he did not want to jump in and get wet, not being a good swimmer. Then he would hop a mile down the brook on the other side until he came to Mr. Twistytail's pigpen house.

This going and coming across the brook took Uncle Wiggily such a long time, whenever he wanted to visit his friend, that one day he made himself a birch bark canoe in which he paddled and crossed the water. I told you about that in the story last night if you will kindly remember.

"Well, I certainly am glad you have a boat," grunted Mr. Twistytail as Uncle Wiggily crossed one day hopped down to the fat animal's pigpen house. "You can come more often now, can't you?"

"Oh yes," Uncle Wiggily answered. "I don't take me any time at all to cross the brook in my boat. But it used to be a long time when I had to hop down the stream to the shallow place where I could jump."

"Maybe I am a little deaf."

"Whenever you paddle over to see me," grunted the pig gentleman, "why don't you give a shout, as you land on my shore in your boat, and then I won't have to wait for you to come all the way to my pen. Give a shout and I'll know you have landed."

So the next time he paddled across the wide brook in his bark canoe, Mr. Longears gave a loud shout as he landed on Mr. Twistytail's shore, and he called out to hear that and come to meet me," thought the rabbit gentleman as he sat down on a flat stump to wait for the pig to get there. But, though he waited and waited, Mr. Twistytail did not come. Uncle Wiggily shouted again and waited. But he saw no pig. For the third time Uncle Wiggily called loudly, but Mr. Twistytail did not come, and then, fearing something had happened to his friend, Mr. Longears started to hop toward the pigpen as he always used to do.

When he got to the pen, Uncle Wiggily saw Mr. Twistytail sitting out in front smoking his pipe calmly and quietly. "Hello, Wiggily," grunted Mr. Twistytail. "Why didn't you give a shout so I could come and meet you? I was out in the woods all the way up here from the brook."

"I did shout three times, but I guess you didn't hear me," said Uncle Wiggily. "Maybe I didn't shout loud enough."

"Maybe I am getting a little deaf," grunted the pig. "I know I'm old and fat so it wouldn't surprise me to learn that I was a bit deaf. But I tell you what to do, Wiggily. Next time you come over in your boat give a whistle. I think I could hear a loud shrill whistle much better than even your loudest shout. Give a whistle."

"I will," said Uncle Wiggily. "So next time you hear a whistle you start walking toward the brook and you'll meet me."

"Very good," grunted the jolly fat pig. Then he and Uncle Wiggily walked through the woods and had a good time. But I tell you about some other time.

"Now don't forget to whistle when you paddle over to-morrow," called Mr. Twistytail to the rabbit as he went back home in his boat across the brook that afternoon.

"I'll whistle," said Uncle Wiggily. So the next day when he paddled across the wide brook, Uncle Wiggily waited on Mr. Twistytail's shore and gave three loud whistles with his lips. But though he waited some time no pig came along.

"I must make me a whistle from bark and that will be louder," thought Uncle Wiggily. He found a willow tree growing near the brook. Willow makes the best whistles for the bark peels off the stick easily in the spring. And to make a whistle you must pound the bark lightly, to soften it, gently twist it, then cut holes for the air to go in, and come out as you blow and there's your whistle.

"Toot! Toot! Toot!" Uncle Wiggily blew on his willow whistle as he waited on the bank of the brook near his canoe. "Toot! Toot!"

All of a sudden there was a loud rustling in the bushes and a voice grunted.

"I heard you! I heard you! That time, Uncle Wiggily. I guess I'm not so deaf after all. Wait! I'm coming!"

Up rushed Mr. Twistytail quite pleased that he had heard Uncle Wiggily's whistle and then the two friends wandered away in the woods and had a fine time. Mr. Longears had another adventure with his willow whistle. I'll tell you about it to-morrow night. Then, if the clothes line will kindly drop some fresh corn and pillow cases on the flower bed in the back yard, I'll tell you about Uncle Wiggily's toots.

HOSPITAL NURSE CONFESSES

"I could not work without Kruschen Salts" SUPPORTS THREE CHILDREN TOO

Read her own statement

"I am a nurse trained in three hospitals and am also a widow with three young children. I wish to let you know the great benefit I have received since taking Kruschen Salts, two years ago. I would not miss the daily dose for anything, as I can truthfully say I would be unable to do my work (owing to a severe form of Neuritis and Rheumatism) if it were not for your valuable Salts, so you will understand how fully I appreciate the splendid health I receive from them."

Are you one of the wise ones like Nurse Cooper, who trust to Kruschen to keep them always fit and ready for work—free from rheumatism, neuritis, and all other "cramps" in the body? Kruschen habit to-morrow, keep it up, and you'll never regret it as long as you live.

Kruschen is a perfect blend of natural mineral salts which we all need every day (1) to help liver and kidney to perform their natural duties in natural way; (2) to clear away gently but completely, all the poison waste matter that has been clogging the system; (3) to purify the blood (owing to a severe form of Neuritis and Rheumatism) if it were not for your valuable Salts, so you will understand how fully I appreciate the splendid health I receive from them."

Each "little daily dose" of full day's supply of these salts; just the right amount to your body and mind, tuned up for the day's work. Kruschen Salts are sold at 45c and 75c per bottle, and are made by Dr. G. H. Kruschen, Ltd., Manchester, England.

Horoscope

THURSDAY, MAY 1, 1930

Friendly stars smile on the Earth to-day, according to astrology. Under this planetary government there should be a decided stimulation of mental as well as physical activity.

In the morning hours students and thinkers of every class should benefit, for the mind is likely to be exceedingly receptive.

All the signs favor education and forecast for schools and colleges many lessons and generous gifts.

It is probable that men and women of surpassing talents are now receiving training for careers of great achievement.

While the knowledge that is power will uplift the human race, there will be devastation and even wars to retard progress. If the stars are rightly read, however, in crime is likely to be indicated and heavy losses through robberies are predicted by the stars.

Persons whose birthday it is have the augury of a year of much good fortune. Jupiter seems to promise money, success and fame.

Children born on this day probably will be generous and kindly as well as gifted and industrious. The subjects of this sign have the possibility of extraordinary success and even fame.

Joseph Addison, famous essayist, was born on this day, 1712. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Junius Brutus Booth, an actor, father of Edwin Booth, 1786; George Innes, landscape painter, 1825; Jules Adolphe Breton, artist, 1827.

J. H. WHITNEY JEWELLER

Dorothy Dix

There is no question that women ask me oftener than this: Shall I marry a man who is younger than I am? To which I respond: It depends upon the age of the man. If he is a boy of nineteen or twenty, then even two or three years of seniority on the woman's part is nearly always a fatal bar to happiness, but if the man is thirty or thirty-five years old, it does not matter even if the woman is ten or fifteen years older than he is.

The reason for this is obvious. No boy of nineteen or twenty knows what he wants in a wife. His tastes are unformed, his judgment immature, and the woman who appeals to his callow taste is more than likely to get on his nerves and bore him to tears when he is man grown. As a matter of fact, the reason that so many ladies fall in love, or think they do, with women older than themselves is because they still have the mother's complex, and the lure of the older woman for them consists in her mothering them and guiding them through the mazes of their first love affair.

After all, no man wants to be married to his mother, and after a youth to himself, and knows his way about, he is very likely to snap the apron from a wife older than he is and to find some young girl who belongs to his own generation.

Twenty-three or twenty-four is in reality ages older than a man of twenty. She possesses an amount of worldly wisdom that it will take him years upon years to acquire. He is against her arts and wiles and he becomes her prey. Hence any woman who marries an unformed youth but a cradle robber, and she generally pays the penalty of having taken advantage of youthful ignorance by losing her heart when he arrives at man's estate.

Different is the situation when a man is thirty or thirty-five. His tastes are settled, his habits formed, his outlook on life, and if he falls in love with a woman older than himself it is because they are really mates. It is because they are congenial and sympathetic because the woman has some attraction of the mind and soul for him deeper and is far more lasting than any lure of the flesh.

A woman of twenty-four may well be afraid to marry the boy of twenty, but the woman of forty need not hesitate to marry the man of thirty. The youth's ideals are in a state of flux. They change from day to day, but the mature man's ideals are fixed. They will not alter. He seeks the qualities he desires in a wife and when he finds them in a woman older than he is instead of in a flapper she need not fear that he will desert her and forsake her for a younger and prettier face.

Many happy marriages in which the wives are much older than the husbands, but if you will observe they were practically all contracted when the husband had reached his maturity, but taking a boy husband to raise a family is a risk for any woman to undertake. It is taking a hundred-to-one chance, with the odds all against his growing up into the nice little husband who is a firebrand companion and satisfied with his boyish wife.

Of course, generally speaking, it is better for the husband to be older than the wife, but this is not as important a matter now as it formerly was. In olden times, when beauty culture was unheard of, and women's interests outside of the home, women lost their looks and grew old. Marriage and aged so much more rapidly than men that a woman needed to start out with a long lead of youth in her favor if she was to keep in the same class with her husband.

That is no longer the case. Women do not age faster than men now. Indeed, they are such devotees of the youth cult, they diet so to maintain a boyish figure, they are massaged so to keep away wrinkles, they have become such adepts in composing synthetic combs, they dress so smartly and are so brimful of interests that they often outflap when they are grandmothers and far, far younger than the bald-headed men of their same age.

No woman need be afraid that the man she marries is going to grow old while she grows old. She knows short cuts to the Fountain of Youth of which he has never heard, and she can keep ever age is necessary. For if a man is as old as his arteries, a woman is as young as her artifice.

The chief argument in favor of men and women picking out husbands of approximately their own age is because it makes for congeniality. In a way, we are all bound by the traditions, the habits and the tastes of our own age class, and have most in common with those who look at life from the point of view we do, and who want to do the things that we want to do.

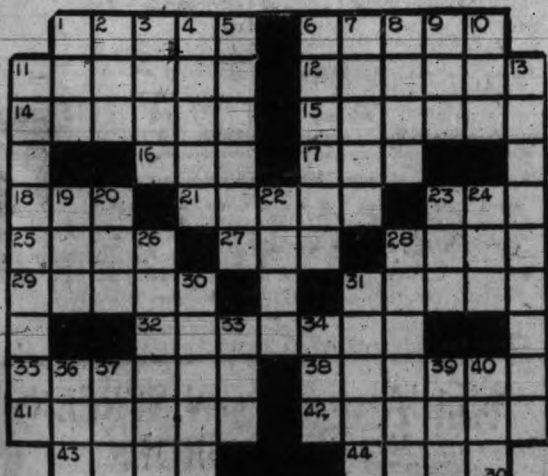

No girl of 20 thinks like a man of 70, or is amused and entertained by the things that amuse and entertain him, and no woman of 40 wants to rush around and do the things that a boy of 19 does, or even wants to listen to him talk long at a time. If we older ones told the truth, we would admit that youth bores us as much as we bore it.

But, after all, age is not determined by the calendar but by the spirit. There are men who are senile in the cradle and women who are debutantes at 80. So the woman who is thinking of marrying a man younger than she has only to ask herself: How old is Ann? And then, provided the man is old enough to know what he is doing, and marrying him isn't like taking a stick of candy away from a baby, she can go ahead with the wedding.
